MAYOR ARI GES MEMORIA RVICE FOR STI HCONA

All Clergymen to Co-operate and Meet His Worship to Fix Details.

SCHEME IS APPROVED BY THE CITY COUNCIL

Suggestion is Made That the Business Houses Close for Two Hours.

That the citizens of Edmonton may have opportunity to pay their respects to the memory of the late High Commissioner of Canada, Lord Strathcona, the council passed a motion empowering his worship Mayor McNamara to arrange with the clergymen of the city for the holding of a fitting service or services in the city churches next Monday, the date of the funeral.

Following the meeting of council this morning the mayor immediately notified the clergymen of the city and asked them to meet at his office this afternoon to make complete arrangements for the service. The mayor is in favor of holding one joint service in one of the larger churches, either McDougall or the First Presbyterian.

It was also suggested by his worship this morning that the business men of the city arrange to close their stores during the hours of the service, that as many citizens as possible may have opportunity of attending. As soon as the exact hour of the funeral is known the committee consisting of the mayor and the clergymen will arrange an hour suitable, same to conform as nearly as possible with the time the funeral is being held in London. There is over seven hours difference in the time and this will be taken into consideration.

Council Passes Motion.

The motion pasesd by the council that morning, following a short discussion in which the aldermen expressed their views of the deceased, is as follows:

"That a memorial service be arranged by his worship in co-operation with as many of the clergymen of the city as possible, regardless of denominations, said service to be held as nearly as possible at the same time as the funeral of the late High Commissioner of Canada is being conducted in London."

This motion was carried by the unanimous vote of the council, with Alderman Kinney excepted.

"I object," said he, "to this council having any observance for Lord Strathcona, who made eighty millions out of Canada and is just the same as the rest of us."

Alderman Kinney was also opposed to the suggestion by the mayor that the business houses be asked to close for at least two hours during the day. His objection to this proposal was that there are many employees who have no option in the matter, and who as a result of this suggestion may lose half a day in wages, and this many of them cannot afford.

Praise and Commendation.

All other members of the council had words of praise and commendation for the memory of the deceased. Alderman Driscoll said that if Lord Strathcona had not lived, Canada would not have been on the map, for to him more than to any other one man is due much of its success and achievement.

"I am in accord with that suggestion," said Alderman Calder, "as only quite recently the late Lord Strathcona donated $25,000 to one of our hospitals."

It was Alderman Clarke who suggested that a memorial service should be held.

"It is a poor way to show respect just to close the civic offices for a couple of hours and have the employees go off skating and forget all about the matter," said Alderman Clarke.

He suggested that the holding of such a service would do more good than simply locking the doors for a couple of hours.

"I certainly think that we should have some fitting memorial service and pay a tribute to the late Lord Strathcona," said Alderman Douglas.

In seconding the motion, Alderman May referred to the quotation from that famous oration at the burial of Caesar, "The evil that men do lives after them, the good is oft interred with their bones."

He suggested that this is the time to think of the good that has been done and expressed his pleasure in supporting the motion.

Flags at Half Mast.

Alderman Campbell was agreed, but did not thing it would be well to make it compulsory on the stores and business houses to close. He was informed that this was not the intention, but merely a suggestion. It would be voluntary and not obligatory, and Alderman Driscoll, who referred a second time to the wonderful part Lord Strathcona played in the making of Canadian history.

"It is a time when all Canada should mourn," he concluded.

The city generally is in mourning today and the flags on the government buildings, the city hall, the post office, the court house, the banks, the business houses and on many private residences are flying at half mast.

COUNCIL ADJOURNS UNTIL DETAILS ARE PRODUCED

Refuses to Consider the Estimates in Their Present Condition.

FINANCE COMMITTEE REVISES ASSESSMENT

Copies Must Be in the Hands of City Fathers on Saturday Next.

The council discovered this morning that there was not sufficient information furnished in detail in connection with the estimates for 1914, and after prying the lid off two or three items in the assessor's department, Alderman Smith brought in a motion that the council adjourn until 10 o'clock Monday morning, and that details of the estimates from each department be in the hands of the aldermen not later than Saturday.

As will be seen from the accompanying table, the net expenditure for the year 1914 is given as $1,280,811.95, added to which is $50,000 for park purposes, which amounts to one quarter of a mill. This estimate is for those departments which are not self-sustaining. The estimates for capital expenditure have not been brought down yet, but will be ready in good time for the council to take up as soon as the amounts for current expenditure have been dealt with.

Method of Assessment.

One of the questions discussed this morning was that of the assessment of the city and the methods now adopted in connection with this work. Some consideration was also given to the special assessments of last year and the manner in which there are to be adjusted. It was finally decided that an additional $500 be included in the contingencies, this to be used by the finance committee in looking into the method of assessment and thus make it possible to get down to actual values as nearly as possible.

Included in the estimates for the assessor's department there is provision made for the salaries of six additional clerks to correct the special assessments of the year 1913. As has already been pointed out, these were all made on estimates, and now the actual figures will be used and a refund allowed to every citizen who has paid more than he should have for local improvement work done last year. The immense amount of extra work entailed on the assessor's department was pointed out to council this morning.

More Information Wanted.

Alderman Kinney suggested that the council should have at least the total amount spent in salaries by the council of 1913, while practically all the aldermen were of the opinion that there was not sufficient detail to warrant a consideration of the estimates at this sitting of the board.

The mayor explained that it was his intention to make the estimates just as full and complete as possible, and for that reason he had all the detail available up to date in the hands of Secretary English, who would furnish any item asked for by the members of council. Mr. English explained that the information now on hand is 50 per cent. more than has ever been furnished to the council in past years. He stated that the books of the various departments are only now being closed for last year, and therefore it has been impossible to get in touch with the total expenditures of the departments for the year 1913. He said that the deputy finance commissioner is now working on this information, and that it will all be ready very soon. However, the council was not in favor of going any further until the details are in hand, and therefore carried a motion to adjourn until Monday at 10 o'clock. In the meantime, extra clerks will be employed in the central offices, and no rest will be given night or day until the members of council are in possession of the details of every department.

AMERICAN-BORN CANADIANS ARE NOW ORGANIZED

Recently Suggested Club Gets Away to Good Start at Medicine Hat.

TO FOSTER REVERENCE FOR DOMINION HISTORY

Thought by End of Year Membership Will Total 25,000

(Special to the Capital.)

Medicine Hat, Jan. 22.—Chas. E. Dyce returned yesterday from Calgary, where he attended a meeting of the executive board of the American-Canadian association. Mr. Dyce was tendered the presidency of the association and agreed to accept if permitted to name the organization secretary. The privilege was extended and A. W. Moore of this city will be the secretary of the association for 1914. This brings the headquarters of the new society to Medicine Hat, for the present at least, and the offices will be in the Times Building.

It is the purpose of the association to unite the American-born residents of Canada into one compact body. This is an ambitious undertaking, but those who are directing the work of the society in its initial stages are confident that the enrolment will be upwards of twenty-five thousand by the end of the present year. While the immediate efforts of the association will be confined to membership work, it is the intention of the executive to prepare an elaborate program of development and accomplishment later on.

Mr. Dyce stated: "We have prepared a platform upon which all American residents of Canada can unite as citizens and as men and women. There are upwards of a million Americans in Canada, and we will endeavor to bring them into the association, and from the way the idea has developed enthusiasm thus far, we have every confidence that our ambitions will be realized.

"It involves no disloyalty to one country to honor the traditions and history of another," continued Mr. Dyce, "and Canadians have so many things in common with Americans that it is difficult for the Americans in Canada to discover any occasion for holding themselves apart from their fellow-citizens. In fact, we believe that no such occasion exists, nor can exist in the future. Consequently, the controlling purpose of the association will be to assemble the native Americans for social purposes, to encourage re-unions at frequent intervals, and to foster reverence for the history and ideals that are British and American, and that are woven into the fabric of our civilization."

A great American conclave for this fall, to be held at some central western city, is said to be among the possibilities. It should not be difficult to bring fifty thousand Americans together if the railroads were to co-operate in the undertaking, says Mr. Dyce, and the presence of either Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Taft or Mr. Bryan as principal speaker, should guarantee a great attendance.

The American-Canadian association will invite all who are interested to send their names and address, and those of their American friends, to the association headquarters for enrolment.

MAN GIVES HIMSELF UP IN CONNECTION WITH FAMOUS MURDER

New York, Jan. 22.—A young man walked into the West Forty-seventh street police station at an early hour this morning and said to Lieut. McQueenry: "I understand that the police are looking for me in connection with the Martin murder. I have come to give myself up. My name is Schaefer."

On August 17 the police sent out a general alarm all over the United States and Canada for the apprehension of two men in connection with the murder of Wm. G. Martin, of 75 Carlton street, Toronto, Canada, who came to New York August 13 to buy stock, and who was found strangled the same night in a boarding house at 452 West Fifty-seventh street. Schaefer was one of the men for whom the alarm was sent out.

CITY TO GET ALL AT COST IF FLUID IS FOUND THERE

Mayor McNamara and W. J. Magrath Each Subscribe $5,000—Committee Appointed to Collect the Balance of the Money—Hopes That it will be Secured by Tonight

Just as the Capital was going to press this afternoon the news was telephoned that the committee named by President Magrath had just decided that it would not attempt to have the $50,000 gas fund subscribed his afternoon, but would meet at noon tomorrow after they had supplied themselves with all the available information regarding the gas fields and the whole proposition, and after the scheme had received publicity through the newspapers. The campaign to collect the fund will, therefore, begin tomorrow, but this temporary delay will not alter the proposal in any material way.

As a result of Mayor McNamara's address in the Empire Auditorium at noon today to the most largely attended meeting and luncheon the Edmonton Ad Club has ever held, a committee of four will convass some of the city's wealthy men and expect to have $50,000 subscribed by tonight as a fund to exploit for gas in the Vegreville fields, this gas, if it turns out as expected, and as two of the world's most eminent gas experts say it will, to supply the only missing link that Edmonton needs to make it the greatest manufacturing city in western Canada.

This is regarded by the 500 men who attended today's luncheon as epochal not only to this city but to all of central and northern Alberta. As Mayor McNamara said, amid the cheers of the admen, Edmonton has the location and all the other advantages except the single one of cheap power, and in ten years the city will have not three, but ten, great packing plants and will be grinding the grain of southern Alberta and sending it to the great north and west.

It can safely be said that in today's luncheon was crowded the biggest single hour's work that has ever been finished in that line in all of Edmonton's history. From the stroke of the clock at twelve until two or three minutes after one there was strictly something doing every minute. While a photographer was preparing to take a large picture of the gathering, Secretary Milne read a telegram received from Winnipeg, as follows:

"Kindly accept my application for membership to your club."

J. D. McARTHUR.

President Magrath in introducing the mayor said that he had been a staunch supporter of ex-Mayor Short during his term of office and during the recent election in which he had been defeated by Mr. McNamara, but now and during all of 1914 he would be one of Mayor McNamara's best helpers and he hoped that every member of the Ad Club, no matter what his politics, would do the same.

The mayor on rising to speak was given three cheers and a tiger, the cheering being led by H. H. Hull, treasurer of the club, and the whole crowd standing up and waving their arms with enthusiasm, as if they expected to hear something important, but it was the unanimous opinion that they heard of bigger and better things than they had expected.

Mayor McNamara first of all explained that President Magrath had come to him a few days ago and outlined a scheme he had for publicity work to be done, and he expected that the suggestions be made would be carried out, among them a change in the name of the club to a chamber of commerce, which would embody all the functions of the fine chambers of commerce in some of the American cities, particularly those on the Pacific coast.

Psychological Moment.

J. D. McArthur, of the Edmonton, Dunvegan and B. C. and Alberta Great Waterways railways had also called on him during his recent visit to the city in connection with matters which affected the railways and the city, and had told him that the Ad club could count not only on his membership, but also a generous donation for advertising the north country.

Now was the psychological moment for Edmonton to get the trade and profit most by the development of the immense territory lying to the north and west. The Pacific Great Eastern railway was being built from Vancouver, but Edmonton had two railways radiating from it, and another under construction, and Mr. McArthur had assured him that this city had a two year's start on Vancouver for the trade of the Peace River country, which would make it easier to hold it.

The only thing that Edmonton now needed to make it a great manufacturing center was cheap power. The cost of power was now over three cents, as against much cheaper power in Calgary, Prince Albert and some other cities in the west.

"I have a tentative plan," he continued, "which will solve this problem, which must be solved at once. Two of the world's foremost gas authorities have been here recently, one employed by the government of China and the other by the government of Mexico, and they assured me that in the Vegreville gas fields, in the vicinity of Bruce, on the G.T.P. about 60 miles from Edmonton, they could strike a flow of gas equal to the flow at Bow Island, it being in the same field.

To Give It to City

"Now, there are many men who have made from a quarter of a million to four or five million dollars out of the growth of Edmonton. These men owe something to the city, and my idea is to incorporate a company with a capital of $50,000 to sink wells for this gas, and one of the articles of this company to be that as soon as the flow is obtained the whole undertaking shall be turned over to the city at cost. (Cheers)

"Your president, Mr. Magrath, is the only man whom I have approached on the question yet, and he has subscribed $5,000, and we have paid in $1,000 each, and our checks are here lying on the table. Let your president appoint a committee and I will predict that by tonight the whole $50,000 shall have

MUCH SPECULATION INDULGED IN AS TO STRATHCONA'S SUCCESSOR

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—Although the question of the appointment of a successor to Lord Strathcona is not likely to engage the attention of the government for some time, the possibilities in regard to the appointment are almost lively subjects of gossip at the capital. The subject is likely to continue to arouse the greatest curiosity because the problem confronting the government in its selection of Canada's third high commissioner constitutes a great political problem, the solution of which will be awaited with keen interest not only in Canada but in Great Britain as well. More than a half dozen names are being mentioned in connection with the vacancy including at least three cabinet ministers and two provincial premiers. The cabinet ministers who appear to be figuring in the speculation are Hon. Robt. Rogers, Hon. Geo. Foster and Hon. J. D. Hazen, while the provincial premiers mentioned are Sir Richard McBride, of Britaish Columbia, and Sir Redmond Roblin of Manitoba. In addition to the cabinet ministers with those who are spoken of as likely successors of Lord Strathcona, there is Hon. Geo. Perley, minister without portfolio who has for years been very closely associated with Premier Borden. Mr. Perley is a man of a wealth but is not as yet a naturalized British subject in Great Britain. That difficulty could be overcome as the new imperial naturalization agreement comes into effect. Another likely subject for the position is Hon. Adam Beck, London, Ont., a man of wealth and distinction who of late has spent considerable time abroad.

ORDERS FOR EXTRA COPIES OF PEACE RIVER EDITION, ISSUED SATURDAY, SHOULD BE SENT IN EARLY

NEW STRATHCONA HOSPITAL TO BE OPENED SATURDAY

Institution Will Be One of Most Up-to-Date in Western Canada.

LATE HIGH COMMISSIONER MADE A GIFT OF $25,000

Public Reception to Be Held at Three O'clock When Many Will Inspect Building.

The people of this city are again to be afforded the opportunity of attending the formal opening of a public institution, on Saturday from 3 to 6, when a public reception will be held in the new Strathcona hospital.

This beautiful red brick structure stands just to the south of Alberta college, on the university grounds, and the public are given the opportunity of seeing where some of their money has gone. Four separate bylaws have been before the people in recent years for the raising of sufficient funds to meet the steadily increasing demand for a large, commodious and up-to-date public hospital on the south side. Three of these bylaws were passed before amalgamation, and the fourth, by which was raised a large amount of money, was voted upon since the two cities have become one.

Named After Late Hero.

The new hospital is named after the late Lord Strathcona, who made a gift of $25,000 to the institution. The hospital will be ready for occupation in a week's time, when the 45 patients now in the old building will be transferred to the new. There is accommodation in the new building for 90 beds, 15 being in each of the large public wards.

The building is as thoroughly fireproof as it is possible to make it, and the total cost, including equipment, furnishings, etc., is $321,636. It is modern and up-to-date in every respect. Miss Baird, the lady superintendent at the present hospital, will be in charge.

On Saturday the doors will open at 3 o'clock and the public are invited. No invitations have been sent out. Turner's orchestra will furnish music, and speeches will be made by Lieut.-Governor Bulyea, Mayor McNamara, and Dr. H. M. Tory of the university. The city council and the faculty of the university will also be present.

Waited Long Time.

It is expected that there will be a large number of visitors, especially from the south side, as they have been patiently waiting for two or three years for the hospital, and are now apparently happy with what they are getting.

Olson & Johnson were the contractors for the building, Wilson & Herrald architects, and Meyer J. Sturm consulting architect.

The following 15 business men are on the hospital board: John A. McDougall, G. S. Armstrong, ex-mayor; A. C. Pardee, J. R. F. Kirkpatrick, manager Imperial bank, T. N. Turnbull, manager Bank of Commerce; Dr. H. M. Tory, O. M. Biggar, K.C., R. B. Douglas, H. A. Calder, T. J. Walsh, Guy W. Merriott, chairman; W. T. Henry, Frank M. Morgan, J. Kinniard, ex-city treasurer; R. C. Davidson, ex-fire chief; Dr. J. C. Fysche, superintendent of hospitals and general manager.

MANY IMPLICATED IN KRAFCHENKO SCANDAL BY REID'S CONFSSION

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 22.—Robert Reid, constable of the city police force, and one of the two officers guarding John Krafchenko when he escaped, yesterday before the royal commission made a full confession. By his confession he implicates Percy Hagel, John Buxton and John Westlake. Constable Flower, his fellow guard, he clears of all suspicion. Reid is the second man implicated in the escape to appear before the royal commission and make a confession. He was preceded a few days ago by John H. Buxton, whose confession implicated Percy Hagel, Westlake and Reid himself. Reid appeared before the commission today at his own request, and made his statement voluntarily.

Next to Consumption
There Are More Deaths From PNEUMONIA
Than Any Other Lung Trouble

Pneumonia is nothing more or less than what used to be called "Inflammation of the Lungs."

Consumption may be contracted from others, but as a rule pneumonia is caused by exposure to cold and wet, and there is only one way to prevent pneumonia, and that is to cure the cold on its first appearance.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will do this for you if you will only take it in time.

Mrs. Wm. M. Steeves, River Glade, N.B., writes:—"Please allow me to express my gratitude for the presence of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup in the house, for I believe it saved our little boy's life. Three years this fall we were in the lumber woods, and it was very hard to get a doctor to us, and our little boy got pneumonia, and was very ill. The only relief he could get was to take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and with the combined use of the Syrup, and your British Troop Oil Liniment, he soon got better, and was around in a couple of weeks. It certainly is a great remedy."

Price, 25 and 50 cents.

LORD STRATHCONA WILL BE INTERRED BESIDE HIS WIFE

Sentiment Demanded Burial in Temple of Fame But He Expressed Wish.

MEMORIAL TABLET TO BE ERECTED IN ST. PAUL'S

Fortune Left by High Commissioner is Estimated to Be $25,000,000

London, Jan. 22.—The funeral of Lord Strathcona will take place Monday at Highgate cemetery, where he will be laid to rest beside the body of his wife, who died November 12. This course will be taken at the solemn expressed desire of his lordship a few hours before he lapsed into unconsciousness. The government was prepared to offer a place for the great Canadian in St. Paul's cathedral, or even in Westminster Abbey, but when the suggestion was made to the Baroness Mount Royal and Strathcona she stated that it was her father's wish that he should be laid beside his wife with as little ostentation as possible.

Memorial in St. Paul's.

It is certain, however, that a national memorial to the dead high commissioner will be placed in St. Paul's cathedral or in the historic hall of Westminster.

Many public men and the press are strongly advocating the interment of Lord Strathcona's remains in St. Paul's or Westminster. The Daily Chronicle in ths connection editorially urges that his body should be laid to rest in St. Paul's. Public sentiment, it says, would be wholly with the idea. Surely a man who has played so great a part in the empire should rest in one of its temples of fame.

The Daily Express suggests interment in Westminster Abbey. Bishop Ryle, who is dean of the Abbey, stated to an Express reporter, "I think it most possible Lord Strathcona will be buried in the Abbey. A memorial service will probably be held on Monday at noon."

Leaves Large Fortune.

Toronto, Jan. 22.—A Toronto financier who has been in close touch with Lord Strathcona estimates the late commissioner's wealth at $25,000,000, practically the whole of it acquired from his many investments and schemes on development, either in Canada or the United States.

The most profitable investment of Lord Strathcona is put down as his acquirement of the controlling interest in the Great Northern railway. The second most profitable development is the Northern Pacific railway.

Doubtless, the largest of his purely Canadian ventures was his interest in the Hudson's Bay company, whose stock he practically controlled.

His next best financial venture in Canada is the large block of C.P.R. stock which stands in his name. He was a holder of Montreal stock, as well as being president of the Royal Trust company.

From Duke of Connaught.

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—The Duke of Connaught has sent the following cablegram to the secretary of state for the colonies, Right Hon. Lewis Harcourt, in reply to his message of condolence to the Canadian people:

"Please accept expression of very deep sympathy from the Duchess of Connaught and myself. Lord Strathcona's lofty ideals, his splendid patriotism, as well as his distinguished services as high commissioner have been a source of pride and stimulus to his native country. Among Lord Strathcona's many great qualities his truly magnificent generosity was probably the most outstanding and his memory will ever be kept green in the dominion as the generous man of Canada."—(Signed) "Arthur."

Day of Mourning.

Vancouver, Jan. 22.—Mayor Baxter will today announce that the day on which the remains of the late Lord Strathcona are laid to rest will be observed as a day of mourning in all the public offices in Vancouver. tI is expected that all the places of business will close for a few hours.

Victoria, Jan. 22.—The session of the provincial legislature was cut short today by adjournment out of respect to the memory of the late Lord Strathcona. A resolution of sympathy with the bereaved family was proposed by Premier McBride and seconded by Parker Williams, socialist.

London, Jan. 22.—Ten thousand coal porters in London went on strike for higher pay. Practically no coal was delivered in the city which is in the midst of the longest and worst cold snap of many years.

It will take only a couple of days to cause great misery in thousands of homes where coal is bought daily, only a bucketful at a time.

Porters who are paid eighteen cents a ton for handling coal are demanding an increase of two cents a ton and other concessions which, it is estimated, will practically raise the pay seven cents more.

Machine to Carry Six Passengers and Journey Made Without Alighting.

London, Jan. 22.—Claude Grahame-White said yesterday plans had been laid for a trans-Atlantic flight n the summer of 1915. A special aeroplane is being built, but there is no possibility of a flight this year, as it would take a year to get ready.

"The only thing that has prevented the attempt to make a flight before now is a lack of financial support, but I have now begun to receive help from Americans. I estimate 40 to 60 hours for the actual crossing. My plan is to make the trip without stopping or descending for petrol. The plane will carry six persons. The starting point has not been decided upon yet, but the landing will of course be at New York."

Y. M. C. A. Debating Society

The championship of the first series of the Y. M. C. A. Debating society will be decided at the "Y" at 8 p.m. sharp on Thursday. The opposing captains, Messrs. Wilson and Tieckey have been working since New Years to win the laurels for the Ewing cup. The subject "Resolved that the movement of Trade unions for the closed shop should receive the support of public opinion," is one that is acquiring a great deal of interest and on this special occasion it surely will be a treat to hear it discussed. The public is invited to attend

The second series has been arranged and it commences Wednesday next, with an eight-week programme. It is even a more comprehensive list than its predecessor. The full series will be published later in the week.

UNITED FARMERS FROM ARCTIC TO BOUNDARY GATHER

Seven Hundred Alberta Delegates Attend Annual Convention at Lethbridge

ALL IS NOT PEACEFUL: METHODS ARE CRITIZED

Agriculturists Have Little To Hope From Ottawa Says President

Lethbridge, Jan. 22.—Seven hundred delegates representing the 17,000 members of the United Farmers of Alberta, coming from all parts of Alberta from near the Arctic circle to the international boundary on the south, were gathered in the majestic theater this morning when President W. J. Tregillus opened the sixth annual convention which will be by far the most important gathering in the history of the organization. The association has just closed its most successful year, having financed and put into successful operation through the assistance of the provincial government a chain of 50 co-operative elevators in as many communities throughout the province, and contemplating the building of as many more during the coming season, if the fight of the progressives is won in a battle against the obstructionists, which promises to make of tomorrow's session a strenuous one.

Hero Aided Scheme

One of the big men who have had to do with the upbuilding of the co-operative elevator scheme is E. J. Fream. Associated with W. J. Tregillus ,a millionaire farmer of Calgary, and others, Mr. Fream induced the provincial government to assist materially in the financing of the elevators. The plan adopted was to form a subsidiary community company in various wheat growing territories, the farmers subscribing 15 per cent. of the elevator cost in each instance and the government loaning 85 per cent. A parent co-operative elevator company was organized, the officers of the United Farmers constituting the officers of the elevator company. The work was rushed and within six months the formation of the company, the 50 elevators were completed and in operation.

Committee Makes Report

The report of the elevator committee outlined the work of building the elevators, and reciting the history of the movement since its inception, was read at the session.

Henry Sorenson, leader of the insurrectionists, president of the Strathmore union and a member of the elevator committee, stated that a minority report would be presented at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon if the convention would consent to making the report the special order for that time. There were some objections, but ultimately a motion, deferring the consideration of the report as requested, was adopted.

It now transpires that Sorenson was simply sparring for time, and that the obstructionists have called in all their reserves and will make a virorous fight on the floor of the convention when the matters comes up tomorrow. The fight will be concentrated on Mr. Fream and as he is associated with the organization since its inception, and has many warm friends among the leaders, it is possible that the discussion may become somewhat heated. At any rate a lost spirit of the session is looked for.

Mr. Fream came in from Calgary tonight and may be invited to the floor of the convention. He is a fighting talker and his speech will undoubtedly add to the zest of the occasion.

President Tregillus' report had to do with legislation brought about by the farmers of the province, including the co-operative elevator association, the co-operative associations act, the new machinery act and to make the farmers lot more bearable. He said the elevator question, which had been criticized in some quarters, would be fully dealt with in this convention and all misapprehensions cleared up.

Advises Co-operation

Co-operation was the whole theme of his address.

Co-operation of the farmers is needed to get more farmers in parliament where the representatives of the interests are now in the majority. "We can't expect free trade; we cannot expect government ownership of railways, we cannot expect single tax, so long as our government at Ottawa is dominated by interests which show they are opposed to us."

The report of the board of directors touches on many matters of consequence, including the possibility of cheaper money for the farmers, deals with the sample market problem, sounds a pessimistic note with reference to the possibility of cheaper freight rates for the west, rejoices in the fact that the parcels post is about to be established.

At the conclusion of the reading of the report, former President Joseph Bowers, of Red Deer, who was in Ottawa in an official capacity during the Western freight rates inquiry, made the statement that in his judgment the farmers could not expect much from the forthcoming decision of the railway commission. He based this on the assertion of Chairman Drayton that the further the commission went into the question, the more complex it became.

The evening session of the U. F. A. was featured by an address by Hon. Chas. Stewart, minister of public works for the province, who made a point which met with much applause when he stated that it was not so much a matter of cheap money that the farmers required, as that credit should be available every month of the year

TELLS WHY STORES DEPARTMENT OUGHT TO BE CONTINUED

Supt. Linthicum Writes Council Explaining His Side of Story.

PURCHASING DEPARTMENT VERY NECESSARY HE SAYS

All Large Concerns Fconomise By Handling Materials in Way Suggested.

Now that the new administrtaion is being swung into line and new methods adopted, Superintendent Linthicum of the stores and works department has written a long letter to the city commissioners in which he sets out in detail many reasons why the purchasing department should not be discontinued. In the letter he suggests that some of the superintendents have been moving for a new ruling that they do their own ordering in future. It has also been rumored that the administration has been considering the advisability of discontinuing this department.

The conditions under which the stores and works departments have been operating during the past year, and proposals as to how it will be managed during the present year, are reviewed in the following article from the superintendent:

"I understand that the heads of various departments have letters of a late date in your office, setting forth reasons why they wish to do their own purchasing, and that these letters are receiving your consideration. Perhaps it is your intention to give me a hearing on these matters, on behalf of this department, before coming to a decision, but I have not yet been advised to that effect, and take the liberty of volunteering the information herein, feeling that it will be given the same consideration as communications favoring the other side of the question.

"I am writing this wholly from a business standpoint, for the interest of the city at large. My experience alone, which is nothing when compared with old business concerns, railroads, etc., convinces me that as long as the city operates its utilities a central purchasing department will be an absolute necessity, and, as time passes, purchases will be more and more confined to one source, until not even one lead pencil will be purchased, except through the proper source.

"When each department does its own purchasing irregularities are bound to creep in and this fault increases gradheavy. I wish to cite a few instances that have come to my notice this week. ually, until annual losses are very One department purchased 15 cuspidors on an emergency order, for which they paid, or agreed to pay, 75c each. The same identical article could have been bought by this department for 55c each.

"Another department made independent purchase of 12 items and asked us to cover by our order. Their requisition gave prices at which purchases were made. Out of the 12 items there were overcharges on five items which overcharges appeared are as folamounting to $12.20. The items on lows:

3 quarts cylinder oil, $1.20, should be $1.02.

1 35x4 non-skid casing, $46.25, should be $37.32.

1 35x4 inner tube, $7.50, should be $6.06.

5 gallons gasoline, $2, should be $1.53.

2 gallons "Anti-Freeze $3.35, should be $3.

Other instances of late date are as follows:

9 dozen wire coat and hat hooks, 90c per gross, should be 53c.

1 No. 18 hair broom, $3.20, should be $1.89.

1 No. 16 hair broom, $3, should be $1.88.

2 18x30 flexible wire mats, $2.50 each, should be $1.50 each.

2 18x30 cocoa hair mats, $1.75, should be 81c.

"These are only a few minor items that have come to my notice lately. They do not amount to much by themselves, but indicate what the results would be if all the departments were turned loose on this proposition.

"All large business concerns are centralizing their purchases, or have done so. Every railroad confines all purchases to the one source, even down to the smallest item. This practice is the result of experience and a careful study of the question. The method is in line with progressive business principles. Edmonton is a progressive city and to return in any degree to miscellaneous purchases, from fifteen or twenty different sources, to be settled for from one treasurer, would be backing up to that extent the medieval and impracticable.

"The great source of complaint against this department is, and has been, the one per cent. and five per cent. charged on all goods handled. As stated in former letters to you, I do not think it possible to apply any definite rate of percentage satisfactorily, because it will not begin to cover handling costs in some cases, while in others the charges are unreasonable, and it is these heavy charges on carload lots that creates dissatisfaction and becomes a source of constant irritation, making heads of departments dissatisfied with this department in every way, but one per cent. and five per cent. was authorized last spring by the board of commissioners, and the order has never been rescinded. I therefore have no choice but to continue along that line until a change is authorized.

"If permitted to do so, I would put in a system whereby the actual cost of handling would be charged out daily, or perhaps on the same invoice with the supplies. This would reduce the cost of handling a carload invoice (when the department interested unloads and stores the material) to possibly 50c or 75c, instead of one per cent. on the valuation of the contents.

"As for purchases of material and supplies of technical nature, I readily concede the fact that the various superintendents are better posted on their requirements than I am, or than any one man could be. I see no reason why they should not arrange for such purchases direct with the producer, but when it comes to placing the order, have it done through this department. The telephone department follows this method without the least friction or delay, and I believe Mr. Caldwell has made use of less emergency orders than any other department.

"I know that most of the departments have a just complaint to make about overcharges from this department on carload material, but the charges were made in accordance with the rulings of your board last spring, and in the absence of any subsequent ruling from you, I had no option in the matter. It is a well established fact, recognized and acted upon by all large business concerns, railways, and so forth, that great economy is effected by a Central Purchasing Department, and there is no question but that the principle will apply equally, if not better, to civic business, as it does to a private corporation or railway, and I am satisfied that a careful investigation on your part of the principles involved, will convince you of these facts."

Disheartening Effect of Piles

It is not only the itching and stinging of piles that is to be dreaded, but also the depressing and debilitating effect on the whole system. The victim of piles cannot do efficient work. There is an uneasiness and discomfort by day, and at night the distress from the itching prevents sleep and rest, and undermines the general health.

From almost the first application of Dr. Chase's Ointment you get relief from the annoying itching and burning, and gradually the ulcers are healed up and the disease thoroughly cured. Do not make the mistake of discontinuing treatment as soon as relief is obtained. Dr. Chase's Ointment is a proven cure, but it depends on you to apply it persistently until a cure is effected.

Even the most severe cases of long standing yield to the soothing, healing influence of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Surgical operations are no longer necessary, for, as a matter of fact, Dr. Chase's Ointment has cured cases that were not cured by operations. No sufferer from piles can afford to delay the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

CITY TO GET ALL AT COST IF FLUID IS FOUND THERE

been subscribed, in one month we shall be drilling for the gas, and in 90 days we shall know what the project is coming to."

Mr. Magrath said that he had no doubt at all that by night they would have the $50,000 . He had gone to the mayor, and Mr. McNamara had said:

"Mr. Magrath, here's my check for $1,000 to be spent by the ad club in publicity work."

He suggested that someone make a motion to thank his worship for it, but before anyone could move a resolution the whole gathering rose and again cheered the mayor.

James Ramsey then moved and L. L. Pearce seconded the following resolution:

"Resolved, that this club endorses the plan placed before us today for the development of the Vegreville gas fields; commends the plan for public and genuine value to the city of Edmonton, and gives it the actual support of this club, and to make up the subscription of $50,000 needed to carry the enterprise through."

After it had been announced that Mayor McNamara had made the Ad club trustees for the $50,000 fund, there was another burst of cheering, and Mr. Magrath then named James Ramsey, convenor; M. R. Jennings, L. L. Pearce and H. H. Hull as a committee of four to get $50,000 this afternoon.

The three city commissioners spoke briefly, but made some significant statements, although M. S. Booth and Col. B. J. Saunders did not talk much about the future, as they do not take office till February 1, and explained that they did not know all the details of their departments.

John Chalmers, commissioner of operations, however, announced that it was the intention to make a big extension to the city power plant this year, and to add a unit of 10,000,000 gallons to the waterworks, which would give Edmonton a water plant second to none in the west, and as pure water as any in Canada.

Mr. Booth, who is the new commissioner of public health and safety, said that he could do nothing better for the fire department than give them enough water to work with.

Discipline would be the primary consideration in the police force, and if there were anyone in it who was not amenable to strict discipline they fire him out even if they had to get rid of the whole force.

Regarding the social evil its nature was such that they perhaps could not hope to eradicate it entirely, but they would try to eliminate "street walking" and to see that nobody, either male or female, in the city of Edmonton made their living out of it. He did not know whether it was his friends or his enemies that got him this position, and felt like the woman who said she did not know what true happiness was till she got married, and then it was too late.

Commends the Ad Club.

Col. Saunders commended the Ad club on the prompt way in which it conducted its luncheons, and said that the first plank in his platform would be that every appointment with him would be cancelled if it were not kept right on the minute. He would not be a commissioner for Sixth street, on which he lived, or for any other section of the city, but for the whole city.

The Ad club passed the following resolution, it is needless to say unanimously, regarding the death of Lorh Strathcona:

"Resolved, that the Edmonton Ad club, in session of 500 members assembled, expresses the deepest regrets at the loss to Canada and to the Empire in the death of Lord Strathcona, than whose life no more worthy example is found in history for emulation by the present generation in western Canada, to whom is entrusted the continuance of his noble unselfish service."

Annual Church Meeting

The financial statement presented at the annual meeting of the First Baptist church held last night showed that $15,308.35 had been raised during the year including $3,305.08 for missions. The Sunday school raised $330.58; women's bible class, $80.90; men's brotherhood, $260.71; ladies aid, $453.52; mission circle $166.70; mission band, $33.77; poor fund, $113.30.

The church roll now shows a membership of 550, the average attendance of the Sunday school being 210.—The election of officers for the year was then proceeded with and resulted as follows:

Treasurer: W. E. Nobles.
Financial secretary: H A. Dunlap.
Clerk: J. W. Hinds.

GET IT AT THE BAY

THIEF GETS CHANCE BECAUSE FAMILY IS DEPENDENT ON HIM

George Wilkins who pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing milk tickets from the City Dairy company, was this morning remanded by Judge Taylor for three months, and his sentence at that time will depend upon his conduct from now on. Judge Taylor took pity upon the prisoner because of his wife and children who are solely dependent upon him.

"You think that you can be an honest man from now on?" asked the judge. "Yes your honor, I will report good conduct." "Let me urge upon you that it never pays to be dishonest," said the court.

Wilkins stated that he wanted to return to the States on account of his wifes' health and Judge Taylor said that such arrangements might be made.

The Double Work of the Blood

The circulation of the blood is one of the most perfect pieces of mechanism in the universe. Besides carrying nourishment to every part of the body, the blood collects the waste products and passes through the kidneys in order that these poisons may be eliminated.

Hence you see the tremendous importance of keeping the kidneys in healthful working order so that they free the blood of these impurities before they find lodgment in some weak spot and set up serious disease.

Aching back and aching head, troubles with the digestion, deposits in the urine, constipation and billiousness—such are the symptoms which indicate the need of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The liver is awakened to action, the bowels regulated, and the kidneys made vigorous in their work of purifying the blood.

In the great majority of homes Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are kept at hand for use in just such cases. They save many doctor bills, and by keeping the digestive and excretive systems in health do much to prolong life and bring comfort in old age.

IMMIGRATION NOT CAUSE OF UNEMPLOYMENT

Speaking before the "People's Forum" Mr. A. T. Cushing declared on Sunday evening that of the causes of unemployment in Canada at the present time one of the principle was that the government had not curtailed immigration.

Surely Mr. Cushing must have spoken thoughtlessly when he thus set out the theory that immigration is the cause of unemployment.

If unemployment arises through a thickening of population, what are we to do with the fact that in Great Britain, where the population is so dense that the same density spread across Canada would absorb all the pepole in the Empire, unemplyoment is less now than anywhere else in the world, while in Canada, where if the population were spread out evenly in family groups an average family would scarcely be in sight of its next neighbor, unemployment is greater than it ever was before.

Or what are we going to do with the fact that it is the immigration to the Peace River which is just at this present moment offering some kind of solution to the local problem of unemployment by necessitating the construction of railways.

Or what are we going to do with the fact that it is only by the new wealth in money and chattels brought in every year by settlers from United States that Canada is able to meet its adverse balance of a couple of hundred millions or more in the trade reckoning.

Or what are we going to do with the fact that the extension of manufacturing plants and the additions to their payrolls throughout the dominion are in almost exact ratio with the increase of population brought about through immigration.

Undoubtedly Mr. Cushing is actuated by the most unselfish public spirit and kindly motives in thus interesting himself in the question of unemployment; but he misses the point very widely when he contends that unemployment could be abolished, or even ameliorated, by checking immigration. Possibly if he were to look a little deeper and inquire in what measure it profits this Dominion of Canada to permit the locking up against these immigrants of any land which is not used he might stumble upon the answer. But he would probably be promptly led to Golgotha if he attempted the solution.

LORD STRATHCONA'S DEMISE A LOSS TO EDMONTON

With the death of Lord Strathcona there passes from the scene a man who has played an active part in the affairs of Canada since the days when more than half of the Dominion now occupied was primeval wilderness. In his span of life he saw most wonderful changes and developments, and in the most of them he had a hand. He represented a type which with his death ceases to exist, the type of trail-blazer who carried the genius for empire building into the wilds and made it blossom. In the process he acquired many millions for himself, but that was the system, and he played the game according to the rules. Nor can it be said that he ever regarded the millions as anything except the tools with which to work out the creations of his imagination. In fact, it seems that the more were opportunities placed in his hands to enjoy a princely wealth, the more spartan did he become in his habits of life.

In many respects Lord Strathcona was a great character and a wonderful man; a man whom Edmonton people have been in the habit of regarding as one of themselves, and while he lived a complete life his demise cannot fail to be regarded as a distinct loss to the city.

ABOLISH THE SENATE; SUBSTITUTE THE REFERENDUM

"If the senate and its friends are disposed to force on us the question of the constitution of the senate and the nature of the appointments thereto, we are ready to accept that issue," is the parliamentary language in which Premier Borden throws out the challenge to the liberals in the house to open up the question of the senate and its power.

The answer to this challenge which would undoubtedly find greatest acceptance in the west would be to at once challenge Mr. Borden to abolish the senate entirely. It is a useless appendage which should have been relegated to the scrap heap long ago, or better yet, should never have existed. The place for the veto is not in the hands of an appointed senate, responsible in no wise to the public, but in the hands of the electors themselves through the referendum. As a specific instance, the electors of the dominion, if given the opportunity of a referendum, could be depended upon to kill with greater finality and more dispatch any such fool propositions as Borden's navy appropriation than could any senate, no matter what its political complexion.

STATISTICS CORROBORATE ALBERTA'S PROGRESS

The total farm production of the three western provinces for the year 1913 is estimated by the most authoritative statisticians at $167,875,653.42.

These figures, which are no doubt approximately accurate, indicate a gain of more than forty million dollars for 1913 over 1912. In the face of such returns, there can be no doubt about the financial and industrial soundness of the west. Alberta makes the best showing of the three provinces in the respect that it shows the greatest gain in dairying and mixed farming, and Alberta is the province which will show the greatest gain in future for the same reason that Alberta farmers are paying more attention to dairying and cattle in preference to grain growing.

For the next few years Alberta is due to show the greatest growth and progress of any section of the North American continent. Statistics corroborate what every Albertan knows from visual demonstration.

CORRESPONDENCE

As to New Industries.

To the Editor of the Capital: Having been present at the meeting of the city council held on Tuesday night, and having heard the applications of three industries in this city for water, light and power, I will say that the remarks made by Alderman Clarke were along lines which I think all citizens will approve.

Edmonton must have industries, and if the city will not encourage those that it has at the present time, how can we hope to induce other industries to locate in our midst?

When a number of our citizens will put their money into an industry such as the Edmonton Leather and Shoe Co., which made application the other night in order to secure to the city of Edmonton a very valuable asset, then I think that the city should extend the utilities to them, provided that the council is satisfied that it is going to furnish employment to a number of men. The city wants no better guarantee than the fact that our citizens are willing to put their money into such enterprizes as these in order to build up the city.

Without being familiar with any arrangement that may have been made with the promoters and shareholders of this concern by a previous council, still it looks reasonable that there must have been some arrangement; otherwise, when water is so essential to the success of the works, they would not have located at their present site.

Now that we have a new council board that seems to be willing to act reasonably for the best interests of the city, we should be able to secure more of such industries as this.

In closing, let me compliment Alderman Clarke—and also Alderman May—and the council board upon their stand Tuesday night, as this will be one of the best inducements that a city can offer to new industries—that is: That the city fathers are willing to do their part to assist good bona-fide industries to locate here.

Edmonton, Jan. 21. SPECTATOR.

Mrs. Murphy's Tea.

To the Editor of the Capital: In Tuesday's (January 20) paper is a social note headed "Tea," wherein Mrs. Arthur Murphy is advertised as giving a tea in the club room in the Civic block to a number of her club and "outside" people.

Now, if Mrs. Murphy entertains people in her own home, at her own or her club's affair, and she may advertise hre club's affair, and she may advertise it to her heart's content, and nobody will care.

But when Publicity Agent Hall donates hundreds of dollars of the taxpayers' money to Mrs. Murphy for her club (who pays with bouquets and fixing up his display-room), and when the city council further provides for Mrs. Murphy and her daughters, and her "inside" and "outside" friends—who will either advertise her, or give her some social prestige by entertaining her in return—a room, cleaned, heated and lighted by the taxpayers' money, and in the Civic block, built with the taxpayers' money, it is time to demand what claim this woman and her family has upon the taxpayers of this city, that they must provide her with the means of satisfying her nauseating desire for social notoriety, even to the ridiculous aping of official ceremonial, as Her Press Honor, with official quarters, and official press book for the "outside" people, or general public, as it were, who are duly required to register therein.

We are left to imagine the gracious condescension with which this pensioner on the bounty of the outraged taxpayers received and dismissed the deluded "outsiders."

But what is the claim? Is she the official entertainer? No. We have the lieutenant-governor and his wife for the province, and the mayor and his wife for the city, and we have not heard that the Dominion government appointed her "Entertainer Extraordinary" or "Entertaining Instructress."

But perhaps it is because she calls herself "President of the Press Club," and everyone knows how quickly a public man is made to realize the power of the press, and how influential a factor it is in his making or unmaking.

But does Mrs. Murphy or her daughters own, operate, or control the policy of any paper? Absolutely none. The city council makes the taxpayers give her money for her club, however, and furnishes her with a cosy room. In return the taxpayer gets an advertisement of Mrs. Murphy and her teas in a room at their expense. And this while hundreds of people owning property cannot pay their taxes, and hundreds more who have only their daily wage are facing starvation!

But her claim may be that she is a clergyman's wife, doing good, and certainly whenever she is doing a particularly Mephistophelian bit of manoeuvring she always emphasizes that role. But where is the parish of which she is the ministering angel? Where are her own personal donations to charity or good works? Always we find that she asks other people to give the donations, while she takes the credit, and the luncheons, and the social leverage as the president of this or that, for the greater glory of God, and we are reminded of the European scandals where so many, even titled women in society, were found to be keeping up their social parade on the contributions for the poor that were collected for "sweet charity's sake." It is true her husband is on the chief relief board of the city, but that is also distributing city funds.

As for the good influence she exerts, while

Erstwhile outwardly religious, now
She danced and hanky-panked,
And her speechs—well, her speeches had
Jove's thunder all out-ranked.

And we saw the press notice of her tearful eloquence at the meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses, when she contrasted the evil nature of these "who threw brickbats" with that of her own sweet disposition which desired "to give bouquets." It is so sweet of her to give the aldermen bouquets for robbing the taxpayers for her, and beating a swiftly graceful retreat in time to let them get the "brickbats." I don't think her bouquets are much consolation to the defeated ones, but she can hug herself with that adroit politician who held his seat through every Stuart bonleversement—

"Who'll be king, I do not know,
But I'll be D'Arcy of Dunmow."

However, Mrs. Murphy may invoke all the influence of her supposed press power, and all her own blandishments for the aldermen collectively or individually and Publicity Agent Hall, but she may as well know first as last that the taxpayers will not endure this misuse of their money.

The high cost of living, and the high rate of taxation, and many regulations of the civil code which are purely breeders of law-suits, are making living in the western cities almost prohibitive to those who had not made their pile before these conditions developed.

I am not acquainted with the principles or policy of the I.W.W., but their secretary is eternally right in asking: "What is the use in howling down agitation? Agitation does not make conditions, it only shows up conditions as they are. If the newspapers would print more about the true conditions of western Canada, and thus head off the stream of emigration which is pouring in from all over the world, they would go far towards solving the unemployed problem."

The "bouquet" talk may pass with a smile when people are happy and contented and the weather propitious, but only fools will mock the tigers of cold and starvation, with bouquets culled from the sickening hypocrises of religious shams, from the chicanery and rascality of the courts, and from the incredible selfishness and moral turpitude of the social parasite.

The Best Cough Syrup is Easily Made at Home

Costs Little and Acts Quickly. Money Refunded If It Fails.

This recipe makes 16 ounces of cough syrup, and saves you about $2.00 as compared with ordinary cough remedies. It stops obstinate coughs—even whooping cough—in a hurry, and is splendid for sore lungs, asthma, croup, hoarseness and other throat troubles.

Mix two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir for two minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. Tastes good.

This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite, and is slightly laxative—both excellent features.

Pinex, as perhaps you know, is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in gualacol and the other natural healing pine elements.

No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this recipe, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.

Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe. This plan has often been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equaled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY.

J. A. Macdonald, the distinguished Toronto journalist, was born at Middlesex, Ont., 52 years ago today, the son of John A. Macdonald, a native of Pictou, N. S. He was educated at Hamilton, Toronto and Edinburgh, and while at Knox college, Toronto, he began his journalistic career as editor of the College Monthly. His youthful ambition had been to become a clergyman, and this was realized in 1891, when he was ordained to the Presbyterian ministry and inducted as pastor of Knox church in St. Thomas. After five years in that city he resigned his pastoral charge and removed to Toronto to occupy the editorial chair of The Westminster, a new religious monthly publication. Dr. Macdonald soon manifested monopolistic instincts, as he acquired The Presbyter, the Canada Presbyterian, the Presbyterian Review, and the Western Presbyterian, all of which were merged and issued as a weekly called The Presbyterian. From 1896 to 1901 Dr. Macdonald was principal of the Presbyterian Ladies' College, but the lure of printers' ink was too powerful for him to resist, and in 1902 he returned to the Fourth Estate, this time as the managing editor of a secular daily paper, the Toronto Globe. By reason of his ability as a public speaker, and frequent visits to the United States to deliver addresses, Dr. Macdonald's fame soon spread beyond his native land.

January 22 is the birthday of Dr. Francis Landey Patten, eminent Princeton educator anl theologian, a graduate of Knox College, Toronto, and the University of Toronto, in Bermuda, 1843; and of Sir Charles Alphonse Pantaleon Pelletier, Quebec statesman, 1837. On this date in 1906 the steamer Valencia was wrecked off Vancouver Island, with a loss of 129 lives.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

Dr. Patton, 71 Today Greatest of "Onions"

Nowadays the little island of Bermuda, aloof in the Atlantic about 700 miles from New York, is principally interested in the tourist crops. When a liner steams into Hamilton harbor—which liners now do with great frequency—the question of the moment is, "How many tourists did she bring?" A score of years ago the first inquiry was "What's the price of onions?" It was so when Mark Twain first visited the "isles of enchantment," and on the subject of Bermuda onions he wrote:

"The onion is the pride and joy of Bermuda, it is her most frequent and eloquent figure. In Bermudian metaphor it stands for perfection—perfection absolute. The Bermudian weeping over the departed exhausts praise when he says, 'He is an onion!' The stage of life to dare and do for himself climaxes all counsel, supplication, adminition, comprehends all ambition, when he says, 'Be an onion!'"

Bermuda has produced a number of human "onions," but perhaps the most famous of all "onions" is Dr. Francis Landey Patton, Woodrow Wilson's predecessor as president of Princeton university, and later, until his recent retirement, president of Princeton Theological seminary. Dr. Patton was born in Warwick parish, Bermuda 71 years ago today, and received his early education at Warwick academy in his native island. Then came the time when he set out "to dare and do for himself," and with the admonition to "Be an onion!" ringing in his ears, sailed away for Canada, where he entered Knox college, Toronto ,and later the University of Toronto. His ambition was toward the ministry, and from Toronto he went to Princeton ,where he completed his education at the theological seminary. In 1865 he was ordained to the Presbyterian ministry, and in the same year he married the daughter of a New York clergyman. After several years as pastor of churches in New York and Brooklyn, he was offered the chair of Cyrus H. McCormick, professor at the Theological seminary of the Northwest in Chicago, and remained there about ten years, also acting as pastor of a Chicago church.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

Centenary of Dismissal of Pope Pius VII. By Napoleon.

One hundred years ago today Pope Pius VII. was dismissed from Fontainebleau by Napoleon, and ordered to return to Rome. It marked the end of those relations between pontiff and emperor which had began almost on the day of the former's accession to the papal throne. Gregorio Luigi Barnaba Chiaramonti was crowned as Pius VII. in 1800. He had no sooner assumed his duties as head of the church than Napoleon intimated, through Cardinal Martiniana, a desire for the reestablishment of the Catholic church in France. Religion had been scouraged from that country by the revolutionists, and the good Pope hastened to take advantage of this proffered opportunity to restore it. Pius appointed Archbishop Spina and Caselli to arrange a concorat, which went into effect in 1801.

In 1804 Napoleon again opened negotiations with Pius VII., this time to secure at the Pope's hands his formal consecration as emperor. After some hesitation, Pius was induced to perform the ceremony at Notre Dame, and to extend his visit to Paris, as the guest of the new emperor, for four months. The scene at Notre Dame on the day of Napoleon's coronation was an imposing one. "The Pope," says Mme. Junot, "arrived first; His Holiness advanced from the door with an air at once majestic and humble." As for Napoleon, says the same author, "the length of the ceremony seemed to weary him; and I saw him several times check a yawn. When the Pope anointed him with the triple unction on his head and both hands, I fancied from the direction of his eyes, that he was thinking of wiping off the oil." As the Pope was about to take the crown of Charlemagne from the altar, Napoleon seized it, and placed it on his own head.

Pope Pius returned to Rome after receiving from Napoleon every expression of good will; but the year had not closed when the French troops suddenly occupied Ancona upon the alleged necessity of protecting the Holy See. Pius realized that armed resistance was futile, but in a dignified proclamation he asserted the independence and neutrality of his realm. "You," said Napoleon, in reply, "are sovereign of Rome, but I am its emperor." After occupying the Adriatic ports, and placing the papal troops under French officers, Rome itself was occupied, and diplomatic relations between the Vatican and Napoleon were broken off. In 1809 the conqueror of Europe declared the papal states reunited to France by resumption of the grant of Charlemagne, and the Pope replied with a bull ex-communicating the invaders.

It was then that Napoleon determined to take possession of the Pope's person. The palace was broken open during the night, and, on the persistent refusal of the Pope to renounce his temporal authority, he was carried off, first to Grenoble, then to Savona, and in 1812 to Fontainebleau. There he met the Emperor, and was induced to sign a new concordat. On conference with the cardinals, however, Pius withdrew his concessions, and proposed a concordat on a new basis. This was refused, but after Napoleon had been driven from Germany he tried to purchase a new concordat by offering to restore the papal possessions south of the Apennines. Pius refused to treat with him from any place other than Rome, and on January 22, 1814, the Pope bade farewell to Fortainebleau and reached home the following May. In the meantime the allies had overthrown Napoleon. With his states restored to him by the congress of Vienna, and freed from the Napoleonic terror, Pius VII. devoted the remainder of his life to ecclessiastic and social reforms, in accordance with the modern sprit. He died in 1823, two years after the death of Napoleon at St. Helena.

FIRST THINGS

Buccaneers.

The first act in the long and bloody drama played by the buccaneers of the Spanish Main was staged at Tortuga 276 years ago today, when the Spaniards massacred all the ettlers they could find on that island. Tortuga was then the headquarters of the buccaneers, who were at that time sea traders and smugglers rather than sea robbers. About 300 of the buccaneers were absent from the island at the time of the slaughter, and when they returned and found their comrads had been ruthlessly butchered, they raised the black flag and declared war on Spain and the Spaniards. Driven from Tortuga, the buccaneers found refuge in Jamaica, and from that time they constituted a mercenary navy, ready for employment against Spain by any other nation, on condition of sharing the loot obtained from Spanish ships. France and England employed the buccaneers at various times, and they also acted independently against Spain. In the course of time the profession of buccaneer was frowned upon, and the sea rovers turned pirates, preying on the commerce of all nations. Spain paid dearly for the massacre at Tortuga.

To Enter Vaudeville

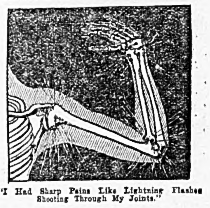
Miss Henrietta Crossman, who has managed for many years to keep out of the variety theaters, is to go into them. Her new play, "The Tongues of Men," is a failure with the public, although many of the reviewers in New York city expressed the belief that it had stood a chance were it not for the fact that much of the matter of it had been used in "Romance."

Rheumatism

Remarkable Home Cure Given by One Who Had It—He Wants Every Sufferer to Benefit.

Send No Money—Just Your Address

Years of awful suffering and misery have taught this man, Mark H. Jackson of Syracuse, New York, how terrible an enemy to human happiness rheumatism is, and have given him sympathy with all unfortunates who are within its grasp. He wants every rheumatic victim to know how he was cured. Read what he says:



"I Had Sharp Pains Like Lightning Flashes Shooting Through My Joints."

"In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today. MARK H. JACKSON, No. 753 Gurney Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y."

STRIKING TRIBUTES PAID TO MEMORY OF ILLUSTRIOUS DEAD

Both Political Leaders Make Reference to Late Lord Strathcona's Career

HOUSES STAND ADJOURNED IN RESPECT FOR DECEASED

Speakers Agree Grand Old Man Brightest Light in Canadian History.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 22.—Yesterday the leaders of both political parties in the senate and the house of commons paid earnest tributes to the great Canadian who passed away in London yesterday. At the conclusion both houses adjourned until today in respect for the honored dead. Graceful tributes from Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in the commons, and Sir George W. Ross and Hon. Senator Lougheed, a nephew of the deceased, in the senate, bore evidence of the high regard in which the late high commissioner was held in parliamentary circles, and of the great work which he had performed in consolidating Canada and materially advancing the dominion's progress.

Of those who were colleagues of Lord Strathcona in the house of commons only 12 are now members. They are Sir Wilfrid Learier, Hon. Speaker Sproule, Hon. George E. Foster, Hon. J. D. Hazen, Hon. J. D. Reid, Hon. David Henderson, William Smith, of South Ontario; Reuben L. Truax, of South Bruce; Col. Sam Hughes, W. B. Northrup, of East Hastings; W. F. McLean, of South York; and W. H. Bennett, of East Simcoe. Each of these men retain memories of the late high commissioner when as the member for Selkirk, and later of Montreal, he occupied a place in the house.

Life Work In Canada.

"It is fitting, I am sure, all the members of both sides in this house will agree," said Rt. Hon. Mr. Borden, "that we should pay a tribute to the memory of the great Canadian who passed away yesterday. I speak of Lord Strathcona as a Canadian because, although born across the sea, his life work was almost altogether carried on in this country, to the service of which he consecrated many years of his life."

"He had been a prominent figure in the house of this country before he undertook at the age of 76 to discharge the duties of the high office of high commissioner for Canada. My right honorable friend knows perhaps better than I do the devotion which Lord Strathcona gave to those duties. of the high office of high commissioner for Canada. My right honorable friend knows perhaps better than I do the devotion which Lord Strathcona gave to those duties. I have known many men in my life time who have been inspired by a high sense of duty but I don't know of any man in my acquaintance and knowledge who had been inspired, by a higher sense of duty than was Lord Strathcona

Devotion was Pathetic

As the weight of years pressed on him, it was almost pathetic to see the devotion with which he insisted on performing even the minor duties of his position. In all the time I have known him—and that was in the later years of his life—I was struck with the fact that time did not seem to have dimmed the freshness of his spirit, the vigor of his will, or his strength of purpose.

"I need not recall to the memory of members of this house the notable events of his career. Through many different conditions he advanced with great will and strength of power to great things and for many years he was truly a great imperial figure. I think that the example of his life may well be an inspiration to us Canadians.

"I am sure that the earnestness of purpose set forth in the record of Lord Strathcona may well serve as an example to us and to all Canadians.

Important Public Service

"In the office which he filled he performed great and important public service to Canada and to the empire. Besides that his many benefactions for great charitable purposes are knodwn to all men so that I don't need to do more than allude to them today. I consider that it would be a fitting tribute to respect of his memory that this house should stand adjourned until tomorrow and I now move, seconded by Sir Wilfrid Laurier that the house do so stand adjourned.

"In conclusion, I am sure that I may, on behalf of Canada, of all the members of this house and of all the people of this country, convey to his daughter, and to all members of his family, the assurance of our deepest sympathy."

Laurier Pays Tribute.

In seconding the motion to adjourn, the Rt. Hon. Wilfrid Laurier spoke as follows.

"Whatever might have been proposed or suggested by the government to do honor to the memory of the illustrious dead whose loss we deplore, we on this side of the house would have heartily and willingly agreed, believing that whatever might be done, would hardly express the deep sense of regret which now prevails from one end to the other of this land. Since Sir John MacDonald's time I don't know that there has been any Canadian, who on departing this life, has left behind him such a trail of sorrow as Lord Strathcona. He is mourned by his majesty, the king, whose personal friend he was, by the peers of the realm in whose illustrious house he had found an honored place; by the authorities of commerce and of finance in the commercial and financial metropolis of the world, who had found in him an equal; by the poor of London, to whom on repeated occasions he was the incarnation of benevolent providence; by the people of Scotland, the land of his birth, and in Canada by all classes of the community, rich or poor, high or low, of whatever creed or race it might be. The universal sense of sorrow is a tribute only bestowed upon men of strong personality, and to this class he undoubtedly belongs.

A Striking Personality.

Perhaps the secret of this regret, so universay and so deep, may be found in the fact that where ever he passed, whether it was amongst those with whom he came in contact, whether it was the Indians of the forest, or prairie, or the most eminent political of commercial men in Canada, or the highest peers in London, he ever created a deep, lasting and profound impression.

"He came to Canada when he was only 18 years of age, more than 75 years ago. At that time all his possessions were the sound, practical education of Scottish lads and more than a full share of the characteristics of his race, keen business courage, caution and firmness, never loud and assertive, never failing to stand as strong as adamant against all reverses, and never spoilt even by the most phenomenal success.

Rose Step by Step.

He came as a simple junior clerk to the Hudson's Bay Company, and from that station he rose step by step until he became, after the death of Sir George Simpson in 1890, at first in fact and afterwards both in fact and name, the governor of that historic company, a position which he held to the last day of his life.

"It is a matter of history that in the construction of the C. P. R. he took a most eminent part, but it is not perhaps as well known as it ought to be that before the Canadian Pacific railway became an accomplished fact it came near collapse, and it was due to the splendid courage of Lord Strathcona and his associates, who more than once risked their all, that at last the Canadian Pacific railway came into being.

"We are proud to remember that he was at one time a member of this house, and those who had the privilege to be his colleagues can testify that his sound judgment, his moderate views, his dignified conduct, always commanded the respect of all sides of this house

Canada Always To Fore.

"Lord Strathcona's devotion to duty his courtesy in business and social matter, his generauos hospitality, and above all his ever watchful eagerness to put Canada to the front in all matters whether important and unimportand, his daily attendance at his office and his whole conduct made him certainly an ideal high commissioner.

"Everyone knows that such private life was on a par with his public life. A model husband, a model father and a true friend. It was his privilege to attend a very great age, and perhaps it was still a greater privilege to him to realize if he cared indeed to realize it, that as he advanced in years, he grew more and more in the respect, the admiration and the affection of his countrymen. His was a fortunate life and it must be said that the vast fortune he accumulated during his life time was gained by fair business methods."

The motion to adjourn carried and the house rose immediately

Reference in Senate

Ottawa, Jan. 22—Hon. Mr. Lougheed said it was doubtful if any page of romance pictured as interesting a career as that of Lord Strathcona. He had risen from the humble position he occupied in a small Scotch village to one of the most commanding figures in the heart of the empire.

"By the death of Lord Strathcona," he concluded, "it may be said that Canada has lost its greatest pioneer and empire builder, a great diplomat, its most beneficient giver its most picturesque figure and a man who for generations to come will occupy the largest space of any of its sons on the historic page. Mr. Lougheed moved that out of respect to Lord Strathcona, the senate should be adjourned.

In seconding this Sir George Ross said that one of Canada's greatest men had fallen by the wayside. In such cases we usually say we stand in the shadow of a great career. Today we don't stand in the shadow, but in the luminous light of the greatest career of any Canadian with whom most of us have been acquainted."

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

LUNATIC DASHES INTO BURNING CELL MEETING HIS END

Mackenzie Bateson Has Awful Death in Local R.N.W.M.P. Barracks.

OTHER PRISONERS HAVE UNPLEASANT EXPERIENCE

Insane Man Rescued Once, But While Officers Fought Flames Darted Back

Dashing back into the burning cell, while the constable's back was turned, Mackenzie Mateson, a lunatic confined in the R.N.W.M.P. barracks, was suffocated to death, late last night.

This appears to be a clear case of suicide while in an irresponsible state. As far as can be learned, he tore the padding from the cell and with a match that he had secreted about his person he set fire to the inflammable material. How this man obtained the matches is not known as he had been searched early in the evening by the city police and everything taken away from him, and then, when he was brought over to the mounted police, he was searched again and a number of matches taken from him. However, he must have had a match or two secreted about him somewhere as he was but a few minutes in his padded cell before the incident occurred.

Trapped in Cells

The first intimation that Constable Ritchie, the night-guard. had, was when he noticed smoke coming up from the basement where the prisoners are kept, and also heard the loud cries of fire from the occupants of the cells. In company with Corporal Barker and Constable O'Neil, the night-guard rushed down stairs, arriving in the basement they found that the whole place was filled with smoke, and the officers had the greatest difficulty in locating the seat of the fire. By this time perfect pandemonium was reigning in the basement, caused by the heartrendering cries of the other prisoners who were loudly crying to be released from the predicament and on the other hand the delirious shouts of the pent-up lunatic The officers opening the door of the cell of the raving man were confronted with a dense volume of smoke and flames. When the man was released from his cell he seemed to be none the worst for his experience and the officers turned to release the other prisoners.

Rushed Back in Cell

No sooner was their back turned than the mentally deranged man rushed into the cell again, which by this time was a regular furnace. Although the police made repeated attempts to rescue the unfortunate man they were driven back time and again by the smoke and flames.

In the meantime Chief Lauder and his men had arrived in record time and had several streams of water playing on the fire and some of the firemen led by their chief succeeded in rescuing the man. He was at once taken up-stairs into the women's quarters, and first-aid applied but without avail. When Coroner Braithwaite arrived life was pronounced extinct. The body was removed to Connelly and McKinley's and an inquest will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Became Very Violent

The deceased has been in the west for about two years and had lately been employed as chef at the University of Alberta. It was here that signs of insanity were first noticed and he was removed from the university to the Misericordia hospital where he remained until he became too violent, and was removed to the city police cell yesterday by Detective Schreyer. While in the police station he continually raved and had only been removed a short time before the unfortunate occurrence took place at the R.N.W.M.P. barricks.

FASHIONS AND FANCIES

COULDN'T BREATHE THROUGH HIS NOSE STUFFED WITH CATARRH

Catarrhozone Inhaler the One Means of Relief, and it Cured Quickly.

The extraordinary efficacy of Catarrhozone is without a parallel. A sneezing cold is cured in ten minutes a harsh cough is eased in an hour, the most offensive catarrh is thoroughly drawn from the system. In case of asthma and bronchitis the relief and certain cure that comes from the healing balsamic extracts in Catarrhozone is simply wonderful.

"For more than twenty years I suffered with a cough, bronchitis, asthma, and nasal catarrh," writes J. F. Fenwick, of Staunton P.O. "Every attack I had seemed to grow worse and I could hardly breathe on account of an accumulation of phlegm in the nose and throat. One day I tried Catarrhozone and in ten minutes was wonderfully relieved. I could breathe freely and naturally through the nose, and blood spitting was stopped—the phlegm was cleared away and my regular breathing restored. No remedy can do more than "Catarrhozone."

There is no friend so certain and safe as Catarrhozone, but being a good remedy it is imitated. Beware of the substitutor. Large Catarrhozone lasts two months, price $1.00 Smaller sizes 25c and 50c. At all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Fashions.

In an article on fashions, by "Lucile," Lady Duff Gordon, she says: "The Blue Bird costume is a favorite of mine.

It is created in a dark blue velours de laine.

The skirt is one of the few plain models on which fashion deigns to smile.

It is the coat which brings happiness, it is delightful, and, withal, so simple. It buttons snugly to the collar across the chest, the cross piece fastens with two buttons over a waistcoat of bright sulpher woolen cloth. The whole effect is severe, but most smart.

Taffetas are to be very chic, in fact a taffeta season is immediately ahead of us.

A car in which to spin;
But woman wants the auto
And the man thrown in.

Training a Daughter

Since the business woman has come to stay and since she has no traditions to guide her and must establish her own precedents, it is the duty of the mother to look the question squarely in the face and train the girl who decides to earn her living in the business world how to meet the problems before her just as the father for generations has trained the boy with the same object in view. Because of his training the boy has the advantage of the knowledge gained by men preceding him so that his attitude toward business has become second nature, while the girl has gone into the race with only the preparation of the business school, which has had absolutely no backing from the home.

Give your daughter, then, in the first place, a practical common school education, see that she has a thorough good knowledge of the English language and that she knows how to apply it. Next send her to business school with the distinct purpose in mind of preparing herself for a serious and dignified career, and not merely to fritter away a year or two in a haphazard manner before marriage. Girls do not marry as early in life as they used to do and many happy, useful and independent years are spent by the average girl in a business office, and the knowledge there gained should be of inestimable value to her in later years. The training in systematic work and the regularity of hours steady her brain and nerves, and the opportunities to observe the transactions of men and affairs, their strength and weakness, the difficulties they overcome or go down under, and the curbing or personal littleness all tend to give her an understanding of the other half of human nature, which she could obtain in no other way.

Help her to learn how to read the newspapers in an intelligent way and encourage her to form her own conclusions and to cultivate an interest in the events of the day, for things are happening now which future generations will be studying from text books. Give her a chance to meet men on their ground and her mind will cast off the artificiality which has become a part of her new strength and new powers, which, with her keennes of perception, called intuition by the male population, will bring to the business world new light and force.

With this sort of training as a fonundation the business school will be better able to teach her the things the mother does not know, make clear what will be expected of her in business; promptness, thoroughness, the cheerful acceptance of duties, sometimes irksome, and the knowledge that closing time does not always mean quitting time in a busy office. The girl who thinks only of the end of the day and whose mind is full of pleasures of the evening, past or to come, cannot expect to be successful. Interest in work may be cultivated and must be if it is to be done intelligently, and if any happiness is to be experienced in the doing of it.

Another very important matter, which lies almost entirely in the hands of the mother, and one which the business school is unable to correct, is the subject of appropriate dress. Even in this day, with all the variety of styles for women, or perhaps because of it, women have not, as a rule, learned to dress for business. The business man who interviews the young woman applicant for a position has a right to be skeptical of her ability when she comes to him wearing a frock suitable for an afternoon tea or garden party, with plume bedecked hat, and betraying a passion of the powder puff. She stands just as good a chance of obtaining it as would the young man attired in a frock coat, pin-striped trousers, wearing a silk hat and carrying a cane. That an office is no place for elaborate suits and gowns, low-necked waists, beads, bangles and bracelets, and ornate hair dressing should go without saying, yet these inconsistencies are seen every day in the attire of girls purporting to be a part of the business fold. The time will come, no doubt, when women will, without flinching, relegate these things to their proper places, but why not begin with the business student? To dress in a business-like manner does not mean that mannish or ugly clothes must be worn, but simplicity should be the keynote, and after all nothing is more attractive than simplicity combined with a due regard for the prevailing modes. Keep the elaborate suit and plumed hat for gala occasions and Sundays, and the low-necked gown and jewelry for the evening. Nothing is more restful after a day of good honest endeavor downtown than to come home in the evening, remove the business suit, and trim shirtwaist and put on the dainty little evening frock.

In the long run it is no more expensive, the business suit will retain its freshness, and your girl will be dressed and will also know how to dress for all occasions, a knowledge very often lacking in women not in business.

Adapt the prevailing styles to suit her individuality, keeping safely away from extremes, and select materials that are of good quality, but not so expensive that, for economy's sake, they must be worn two or three years after the style has changed. For a suit or frock, no matter how fine, is hopelessly unattractive if out of date.

For business wear in cool weather the plainly tailored suit and simple shirtwaist can hardly be improved upon, while for really cold weather the heavy coat and tailored one-piece serge dress are perhaps the best choice.

After your girl has been properly trained, and is successful in her quest for a position, treat her as seriously as you would treat your boy, and do not forget that the office has the same demand on her time as it has on his. And finally, it will be necessary to realize that if she is to be successful in business she must have exactly the same service as a man and not expect to receive special consideration because of her sex.

VITALITY REGAINED KIDNEYS CURED

Health Restored By "Fruit-a-tives"

HAGERSVILLE, ONT., Aug. 26th. 1913.

"About two years ago, I found my health in a very bad state. My kidneys and liver were not doing their work, and I became all run-down. I felt the need of some good remedy, and having seen "Fruit-a-tives" advertised, I decided to try them.

Their effect, I found more than satisfactory. Their action was mild and the results all that could have been expected.

My liver and kidneys resumed their normal action after I had taken upwards of a dozen boxes, and I regained my old time vitality. Today, I am as well as ever, the best health I have ever enjoyed, and I unhesitatingly give you this testimonial for publication if you wish"

B. A. KELLY.

In hundreds of letters received by the Fruit-a-tives Company, the same expression is used "Fruit-a-tives is the best kidney remedy in the world". At any rate, these tablets have proved the best to the hundreds of men and women who have been cured by taking them. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

NOVEL EQUESTRIAN ACT WILL HEADLINE AT PANTAGES SHOW

The feature position on next Pantages theater program has been given to the Riding Duttons, a trio of the very cleverest equestrians who have invaded vaudevilledom in the past few years. Their act differs entirely from anything heretofore attempted on a stage.

The Riding Duttons for seven years have been a star feature of the Ringling circus. After their strenuous summer seasons they have heretofore devoted their winter months to rest, but since riding acts have sprung into popularity, agents have been holding out alluring offers. It was not until Alex Pantages offered them his entire circuit, which would take them to the warmer clime of California, that they consented. Their act is a pretentious offering, carrying four people, two horses and a carriage, with a special stage built out over the footlights to give them working room. Crampton presents a novel singing and talking number. Duncan and Holt have a black-face turn based on aviation that is exceedingly funny, and Patsy Doyle, eccentric comedian, guarantees to drive away the "glooms." Clara Stephens and company introduce the latest dances in a captivating manner.

NORTHERN FILM HAS BEEN SECURED BY DREAMLAND THEATER

Coming to the Dreamland for Friday and Saturday is the masterpiece northern picture, "Breed of the North," a two-part special, giving a melodrama dealing with Canadian frontier people, and in which the R. N. W. Mounted Police figure prominently. The story has an atmosphere very much like the North Woods series recently produced by the Eclair people. It is a double exposure picture with the leading man, Edgar Jones, playing twins who look just alike. One is an officer sent out to bring in the other, innocent, though accused of murder. The plot has been handled in a first rate way, and the picture makes a good, substantial offering.

Pictures of this description are not before the public every day. They are hard to take—that is, the plot is generally a long one and takes a lot of setting to give it the true northwestern atmosphere. Dreamland patrons will do well to see this feature, as it is one of those true to life stories filled with lots of action, a good plot and vividly portrayed. Those who have seen the picture, "The Frozen Trail," will be reminded of the scenes and action so vividly portrayed in that film, illuminating the frozen effect.

Welsh Hold Concert.

All Welsh people of the city and their friends are reminded that a concert will be held Thursday evening next in the Cameron hall, on Namayo avenue, commencing at 8 o'clock. A good program of music, etc., will be submitted, and it is hoped that many will attend.

MISS BRADLEY TO GO HOME.

Mrs. Henry Bradley, Brown's Mills, N. J., has been made entirely well by the news that her husband had succeeded in inducing their daughter, Dellalah to forsake the man with whom she eloped to Mobile, Ala., and return to her home. The man, Joel M. Foster, has furnished $2,000 bond to guarantee his appearance at the hearing at which he will be charged with violation of the Mann white slave act. Foster is a wealthy gentleman-farmer and the father of Miss Bradley's girl chum.

"THE ENDLESS NIGHT" EXCLUSIVE SERVICE FILM AT EMPRESS

A picture that appeals to those who like the finest in picture presentation and plot will like the feature film offering at the beautiful Empress theater, "The Trap" that is on the program that ends with today's performances. The story tells of a darling plan by an infatuated yet daring and villanious lover, to win the hand of the daughter of Cortland Morris, a banker.

One Willis is in love with the Lydia who is also wooed by Gibbons, and who is preferred by the girl. Willis by bribing the butler secures some valuable papers from the personal safe of his master, which papers were entrusted to the banker and if known would implicate the father of the girl, and his associates in some serious financial matters. Lydia, however, sees the interchange of papers and money between the butler and Willis.

To deceive Willis, Lydia sends a note to him presumably from the butler, telling him that all is discovered and that he must guard the papers carefully. To be sure Willis goes upstairs in the house of his host Morris, the banker, and slips the papers in the safe but overlooks to close the door of the safe. Lydia slips in the room and takes the papers out. She is caught, however, by Willis who returns to close the door of the safe. He threatens to ring the fire alarm bell and bring all the guests to the room if she will not return the papers to him. Lydia herself, however, pulls the cord, and while the guests are hammering at the door, she switches out the lights and makes her escape. Willis follows her. Gibbons also had seen her go out and followed too, and see what was the matter? He rescues her from Willis and administers to him a severe beating.

The butler in the meantime has repented of his cillainy and returns to the house just as Willis is phoning for the police to have the girl arrested. A scuffle ensues, and in trying to secure from Willis a revolver which he had drawn it accidentally goes off and the butler is mortally wounded. The guests rush in who find Willis with the dead man. The police arrive and lead the blackguard to jail charged with murder. Lydia restores the papers to her father and the bankers and Gibbons receives the hand of his sweetheart.

"The Endless Night," is another of the feature pictures that is presented on this same program, which is a continuation of the "Exclusive Service" now showing at the Empress. It is a pretty picture built around a good story and well acted with Lubin's finest players, Arthur Johnston and Lottie Priscoe leading.

A number of beautiful organ solos are rendered on the pipe organ and make an appropriate accompaniment to the program.

William Blase, after an absence of 35 years, dropped in the other day to visit his sisters in Fort Wayne, Ind. They thought him dead years ago.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR NO DANDRUFF—25 CENT DANDERINE

Hair coming out? If dry, thin, faded, bring back its color and lustre.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

TANGO PICTURES MAKE DECIDED HIT AT BIJOU THEATER

The much-talked of and read about world famous Tango was presented yesterday for the first time in Edmonton in motion pictures at the Bijou. The many pretty steps of this celebrated dance were shown in every detail and most carefully too by Mr. Wallace McCutcheon and Miss Joan Sawyer, the premier dance instructors of New York's smart society, and after seeing what the Tango really is, one wonders what all the fuss and talk is about.

The Tango as executed by these dancers is a beautiful and clever dance. Of course as any dance can be put on with vulgar intent so can the Tango, doubtless, and in this way the erroneous and exaggerated impression of the Tango has gained such ground.

The pictures at the Bijou carefully show the Tango so that those desirous and attentive can learn the fundamentals of this present moment dance craze, for in addition to presenting to the public, the respectable and proper version of it, the pictures have been manufactured so that everyone may be able to learn it, as well as the other dances exhibited in this serious of dances.

The theaer was again crowded to its capacity. There seems no doubt but that the people in Edmonton are as keenly interested in the Tango as throughout the entire continent and the European cities.

Today is the last time the Tango will be presented. The management have secured it as also the other dances as an extra attraction to their regular program of splendid pictures, and to their credit it should be said that the regular price of admission only is charged.

MONARCH PRESENTS CLEVER DETECTIVE YARN BY FROHMAN

At the Monarch tomorrow and Saturday Danie L. Frohman presents Laura Sawyer in the great detective play "An Hour Before Dawn."

"An Hour Before Dawn" is a thrilling and intensely exciting story, being in a sort of way a sequel to "Chelsea 7750," which scored an emphatic hit at the Monarch two weeks ago. Laura Sawyer, who played opposite to Henry E. Dixey in the first film, continues in "An Hour Before Dawn" to depict the role of Kate Kirby, the detective's daughter, and as her father is a paralytic, attempts to solve a metropolitan murder mystery that baffles the police. The guidance of her father during the unraveling of the threads of crime occupies a big place in the story, and Miss Sawyer, assisted by House Peters, portray the leading roles in a manner that grips the spectator and makes of the film version a justly crediable adaption of the celebrated play.

The skilled hand of Daniel Frohman is seen throughout the production, and the Famous Players have surely scored another success in this offering.

DOMINIONS WIN GREAT GAME BY CLOSE SCORE LAST NIGHT 7 TO 6

Winners Jump to the Front in First Half of Contest But Fail to Score in Later Period—Eskimos Came Strong at Finish But Failed to Even Up—Record Crowd in Attendance.

"Well, boys, the big game is over, and how did you like it? Were you disappointed, or were you one of the "I told you so's?"

It is safe to say that the majority of the 3,500 fans who witnessed last night's game at the Arena scarcely expected things to happen just the way they did. But that is one of the uncertainties of the game. For instance, it was hardly expected that the Dominions would have such a "walkaway" in the first half. However, with "Baldy" Lynne playing in the place of Jimmie Sutherland, the Eskimos came back strong in the second half and nearly tied the score.

The largest crowd that ever attended a hockey game in Edmonton were there to see the local teams fight it out for supremacy, and they saw a good game. Hockey was never so popular in Edmonton as it is today, and this city may well lay claim to supporting two of the fastest amateur hockey teams in the country.

First Half.

There was a scramble at center ice and McGovern made a rush, but was blocked. Jimmie Sutherland almost got through the Dominion's defence, but McGovern secured the puck and rushed, but was blocked by the Eskimo goal. Eskimos rushed and shot, but Sutherland saved, and Muirhead was given a three minute rest. Eskimos charged down the ice, but to no account, the Dominions secured the rubber, and after a grand attack scored their first goal in 4 minutes. The Dominions pressed hard, McGovern shot twice, but no score. Eskimos bolted down the ice but could not get through, and Dominions returned the attack. Gordon made a nice run and passed to Jimmie Sutherland, but the shot was blocked. Stanley got five minutes for tripping and Eskimos took advantage of his absence with many shots, but Sutherland was always in the way. Lloyd Cook made a nice long run up the ice, but was shunted behind the goal and the play transferred to the Dominions' end. Stanley carried puck up but was kept to the fence and McGovern tried a rush, but the pass was lost. Stanley made a long, lone rush right through Eskimos' defence and scored in 7½ minutes.

Eskimos' First Goal.

Eskimos came back in a hurry, and Dea scored their first goal in 45 seconds. Jimmie Sutherland drew a penalty line when two players fell to the ice. Dominions shot hard, but Reid blocked. Stanley again caried puck right up, but lost his shot. Baird notched the third tally for Dominions in 3.10. Eskimos pressed hard, but Gordon shot poorly. Stanley made another rush and dodged, but Reid saved. Neil Sutherland tried to get through, but Stanley intercepted, and went up the ice and passed, but Reid made a good save. Leo Cook got three minutes, and the Dominions scored again after nice rush and shot in 4 minutes. Eskimos followed with one in quick succession, taking just 20 seconds to turn the trick, when they got close in on a rush. They continued to bombard the Dominion's net, but Sutherland made some great saves.

Dominions Rushed Matters.

From a scramble around the Eskimo goal the Dominions secured their fifth tally in 3½ minutes and made another in one minute, when Stanley made a long rush and pretty dodge. There was a scrimmage at the Dominion's goal and Sutherland made some whirlwind stops when three or four Eskimos were pegging him hard. Dominions made another good rush, but the shot went wide. Jack Gordon was hurt and a long delay followed. Leo Cook went off to even up. McGovern made a nice long run and score after 2½ minutes' play, just before half time was called. Score at half-time, 7-2.

Stanley the Star.

Barney tSanley was the pick of the teams in the first half. He simply played a "whale" of a game, and was up on the forward line as much as he was in his position at point. His long rushes were pretty to watch and on more than one occasion resulted in a score. Yes, Stanley was a "bear."

Clyde Sutherland played a great game and stopped nearly everything that came his way in the first half. Charlie Reid appeared to be having a "night off," and his work was hardly up to standard.

Second Half.

"Baldy" Lynne replaced Gordon in this half, and showed great speed and was instrumental in the improved playing of the Eskimos. He was perhaps the fastest skater on the ice, and was wise enought to "back-check."

Stanley and Jimmie Sutherland had a collision, but came around O.K. in a minute. End-to-end rushes featured the beginning of play. McGovern made a good rush, but was shoved into the corner. Manners drew a penalty and the Dominions pressed hard. Stanley was playing a "whale" of a game and intercepted many dangerous rushes. The Eskimos worked hard and Sutherland made a great stop of a high one. Dominions then forced matters and bombarded Reid and the play was fast and furious. The defence and forwards of both teams worked hard, and after 9 minutes of play Dea made another for the Eskimos after a pretty combination. Dea was waking up and improving his play every minute. Stanley tried to get through but was blocked. Eskimos scored again after a despertae four-man rush: Time 2 minutes. Dea got three minutes for tripping and the play resorted to end-to-end rushes. Muirhead made a great block when Dominions got close in, and Manners made nice rush and pass, but Reid saved. Dea tried hard but shot wide, and Reid excelled himself by stopping a hot shot when Dominions broke through. Dominions might have scored when Muirhead came away out, but Stanley's shot went wide.

Eskimos Another.

Eskimos pulled another good rush and scored in 9 minutes, and Leo Cook almost got through to even up. Stanley and Baird both went on the fence, the latter for tripping Lynne. Eskimos tried hard and had most of play, but Sutherland was always ready. There was only a few minutes to play, and the players were tiring rapidly. The final score of the evening came when the Eskimos secured the rubber at the far end of the rink, and after one grand rush notched their sixth goal. Time, 5 minutes. The last minute of play found both teams pressing hard to get through, but of no avail, and the game ended 7 to 6 in the Dominions' favor.

Little Rough Work.

The game was pretty clean throughout, and very little rough work was in evidence. Referee Deeton and Judge of Play McLeod handled the game in a capable manner. The Eskimos were lamentably weak upon that very important feature, "back-checking." The entire forward line many times after making a rush would straggle back to help out the defence. There's room for improvement there.

Everybody was "Happy."

The game was thoroughly enjoyed by the big crowd and everyone seemed in a happy mood. The numbering of the players and the sign hung over center ice were appreciatаed. The rink management is to be complimented upon the large number of street cars waiting to carry everybody home. There were plenty of cars, but mighty little "juice."

Dominions Showed "Class."

Without a doubt the winners showed that they, have "some" team and are to be reckoned with in the Allan Cup games. Neil Sutherland failed to show up in his usual style, and all the Eskimo forwards were checked pretty closely all night. Many would have liked to have seen the Eskimos tie the score, and but for the calling of time they might have done it at that.

The teams lined up as follows:

Eskimos (6)		Dominions (7)
Reid	Goal	C. Sutherland
Muirhead	R. defence	Stanley
Duncan	L. defence	McGovern
Dea (Lynn)	Rover	Leo Cook
J. Sutherland	Centre	Lloyd Cook
N. Sutherland	Left	Baird

Shows Dual Personality

Paul Lindau's dual personality play, "Der Andere" ("The Other"), is to be done into English out of its version, "La Procureur Hallers," and will be acted in London by Arthur Bourchier. The play is 20 years old; it was first acted in Meiningen in 1893. Its principal character, that of the title in the French version, is a police magistrate, who, through an unusual form of insomnia, develops a dual personality and commits by night crimes which he must expose in his other self by day.

BRITISH PAPER COMMENDS PROFIT SHARING SCHEME

London, Jan., 24.—The Pall Mall Gazette says regarding the Ford profit-sharing scheme at Detroit: "The business world is disposed to fear that Ford's generosity will erouse expectations among employees of other concerns. This is not improbablo but we do not thnik it is to be deplored. Profit sharing is the most promising road to harmony between capital and labor yet surveyed and employers who have the courage to enter it deserve that better service should accrue."

Theater for the People

Max Reinhardt is to give Berlin a huge new theater "for the people," wherein everything of a theatrical nature will be exploited at popular prices. In his prospectus he calls the playhouse the "Theater of the Five Thousand," and it will be in what is now the Schumann circus, which is to be thoroughly modernized.

SPORTOGRAPHY

Ira Thomas Lost Out Because He Couldn't Catch a Foul Ball.

Ira H. Thomas would be enrolled in the baseball hall of fame as one of the greatest catcher in history except for his one weakness—he never could catch a foul ball that was at all difficult.

The famous Athletic backstop was born at Ballston Spa, N.Y., thirty-three years ago today. In fact, he is the guy who put the Ball in Ballston. (Tremendous applause.) Prior to his debut, Ballston Spa got onto the sporting page only by its devotion to the noble art of cock fighting. In the good old days that village was the scene of many notable mains in which the most ferocious and blood-thirsty fowls in America participated. Perhaps that explains Ira's antipathy to fouls, which, spite of his brilliance in other ways, long delayed his appearance in the main show.

Ira was a little, sawed-off runt, standing only six feet two inches in his hosiery when, at the age of twenty-one he was given a try-out by Hartford, in the Connecticut league. Every time he went after a foul fly he fell down, and Hartford decided he wouldn't do. Next year Ira tried again, and this time he was given a job. He caught ninety-four games for the Nutmeg State capital in 1903, and broke all records by catching four games in oen day to decide the championship.

Next year Thomas went to Newark, in the Eastern league, but he was used in only a few games, and was then traded to Providence. The Saints needed a backstop, and Ira got regular work during his two seasons with the Rhode Island city, swatting .311 the last year.

Thomas broke into the big league with the New York Americans in 1906, and remained there until the close of 1907, without accomplishing anything particular to get himself into the limelight. In 1908 he went to Detroit, but Jennings got peevish over his stunt of falling on his back when trying for a foul. At the same time Ira's arm began to go back on him, although he caught the only games in the world's series which the Tigers annexed from the Cubs. Jennings put Thomas on the market, and Connie Mack got him. Connie seldom gets stung, and he didn't in the deal whereby he acquired the lengthy, muscular and quick-thinking backstop. For a time Thomas was the mainstay of the Athletics behind the bat. His few failings were more than compensated for by his headwork and his enthusiasm for winninf, which have been of great assistance in helping the Athletics to five pennants.

TODAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS

1895—Frank Erne knocked out Joe Leonard in 2nd round at New York. This was one of the first of the string of victories by which the Swiss lad attained to the world's lightweight championship. Erne began fighting in Buffalo, and in 1894 landed in New York. Leonard was looked upon as a first class boxer, and Erne's speedy victory put him among the top-notchers. He fought George Dixon twice, got a draw with Kid Lavigne, knocked out Dal Hawkins at San Francisco, got a decision over George "Elbows" McFadden, and in 1899 fought Kid Lavigne again at Buffalo, winning the decision and the lightweight title.

1904—Joe Gans defeated Joe Grim in 10 rounds at Baltimore.

WEAKNESS AND PALPITATION OF THE HEART.

When the heart begins to beat irregularly, palpitates and throbs, skips beats, and sometimes seems to almost stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm.

Mrs. George Burridge, Coboconk, Ont., writes:—"Just a few lines to let you know what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. I have been troubled with weakness and palpitation of the heart. I tried many remedies but got none to answer my case like your pills did. I can recommend them highly to all with heart or nerve trouble."

Greater than Panama's Bridge of Water

The Panama Canal is the logical outcome of the trend of modern commerce—it is monumental evidence of the present-day need for shortening distance—for lessening time and for reducing cost of distribution between maker and consumer.

In point of distance, the Panama will bring the Pacific nearer to the Atlantic by 1,000 miles. In point of time, the sea voyage between Halifax and Vancouver will be shortened by 24 days. In point of cost, the canal will very materially lessen the expense of carrying freight between these places. But there is a stronger factor than even the Panama in shortening distances, lessening cost and saving time between manufacturer and user.

It is Advertising—

It is the quickest—
It is the most direct—
And it is the cheapest—
means of communication between the maker and user of goods.

For instance, Advertising enabled a manufacturer in Nova Scotia to carry a demand for his product

from his factory to the Pacific Coast
— in a few days
— at an insignificant cost
compared with slower and more laborious selling methods.

In one week, thousands learned of his product where it would have taken years for the news to get around without advertising.

To the Manufacturers of Canada:

You will be alert to take advantage of the Panama route for the physical transportation of your goods. Have you considered how quickly, how far, and at what small cost the Advertising Trade Route will carry demand for those goods?

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.

FASHIONS AND FANCIES

COULDN'T BREATHE THROUGH HIS NOSE STUFFED WITH CATARRH

Catarrhozone Inhaler the One Means of Relief, and it Cured Quickly.

The extraordinary efficacy of Catarrhozone is without a parallel. A sneezing cold is cured in ten minutes a harsh cough is eased in an hour, the most offensive catarrh is thoroughly drawn from the system. In case of asthma and bronchitis the relief and certain cure that comes from the healing balsamic extracts in Catarrhozone is simply wonderful.

"For more than twenty years I suffered with a cough, bronchitis, asthma, and nasal catarrh," writes J. F. Fenwick, of Staunton P.O. "Every attack I had seemed to grow worse and I could hardly breathe on account of an accumulation of phlegm in the nose and throat. One day I tried Catarrhozone and in ten minutes was wonderfully relieved. I could breathe freely and naturally through the nose, and blood spitting was stopped—the phlegm was cleared away and my regular breathing restored. No remedy can do more than "Catarrhozone."

There is no friend so certain and safe as Catarrhozone, but being a good remedy it is imitated. Beware of the substitutor. Large Catarrhozone lasts two months, price $1.00 Smaller sizes 25c and 50c. At all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Fashions.

In an article on fashions, by "Lucile," Lady Duff Gordon, she says: "The Blue Bird costume is a favorite of mine.

It is created in a dark blue velours de laine.

The skirt is one of the few plain models on which fashion deigns to smile.

It is the coat which brings happiness, it is delightful, and, withal, so simple. It buttons snugly to the collar across the chest, the cross piece fastens with two buttons over a waistcoat of bright sulpher woolen cloth. The whole effect is severe, but most smart.

Taffetas are to be very chic, in fact a taffeta season is immediately ahead of us.

Ottawa Notes.

Rideau Hall was very festive last Saturday when their royal highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught gave the first skating party of the season, to which several hundred guests had the honor of being invited.

Their royal highnesses received and the Duke and Princess Patricia participated in the skating, the princess looking charming in a black velvet costume, the coat of orange color, black furs and a black velvet hat.

Dance.

The law students of the "Varsity" gave a ripping dance last night in Athabasca hall, which was decorated with emblems apropos of their calling. A pennant stretching almost across the room bearing the mysterious word "Law" was the center of attraction.

Turner's orchestra played such music as "never was" and a couple of hundred youths and maidens tripped the 'light fantastic' 'until morning.

The patronesses, Mrs. Tory, Mrs. Parlee, Mrs. Walbridge and Mrs. Bishop were present. Mrs. Harvey and Mrs. Bolton were unavoidably absent.

Mrs. Tory was gowned in black, with touches of dresden colors.

Mrs. Bishop wore a champagne-colored charmeuse, with delicate lace draperies.

Mrs. Walbridge had on a cream satin with brocaded tunic of cream and black touches of black velvet.

Mrs. Parlee wore black charmeuse, with net tunic heavily embroidered.

Among the prominent guests were Mrs. Stewart of Calgary and Judge Crawford of Edmonton.

A delicious supper was served about eleven o'clock.

Training a Daughter

Since the business woman has come to stay and since she has no traditions to guide her and must establish her own precedents, it is the duty of the mother to look the question squarely in the face and train the girl who decides to earn her living in the business world how to meet the problems before her just as the father for generations has trained the boy with the same object in view. Because of his training the boy has the advantage of the knowledge gained by men preceding him so that his attitude toward business has become second nature, while the girl has gone into the race with only the preparation of the business school, which has had absolutely no backing from the home.

Give your daughter, then, in the first place, a practical common school education, see that she has a thorough good knowledge of the English language and that she knows how to apply it. Next send her to business school with the distinct purpose in mind of preparing herself for a serious and dignified career, and not merely to fritter away a year or two in a haphazard manner before marriage. Girls do not marry as early in life as they used to do and many happy, useful and independent years are spent by the average girl in a business office, and the knowledge there gained should be of inestimable value to her in later years. The training in systematic work and the regularity of hours steady her brain and nerves, and the opportunities to observe the transactions of men and affairs, their strength and weakness, the difficulties they overcome or go down under, and the curbing or personal littleness all tend to give her an understanding of the other half of human nature, which she could obtain in no other way.

Help her to learn how to read the newspapers in an intelligent way and encourage her to form her own conclusions and to cultivate an interest in the events of the day, for things are happening now which future generations will be studying from text books. Give her a chance to meet men on their ground and her mind will cast off the artificiality which has become a part of her new strength and new powers, which, with her keennes of perception, called intuition by the male population, will bring to the business world new light and force.

With this sort of training as a founudation the business school will be better able to teach her the things the mother does not know, make clear what will be expected of her in business; promptness, thoroughness, the cheerful acceptance of duties, sometimes irksome, and the knowledge that closing time does not always mean quitting time in a busy office. The girl who thinks only of the end of the day and whose mind is full of pleasures of the evening, past or to come, cannot expect to be successful. Interest in work may be cultivated and must be if it is to be done intelligently, and if any happiness is to be experienced in the doing of it.

Another very important matter, which lies almost entirely in the hands of the mother, and one which the business school is unable to correct, is the subject of appropriate dress. Even in this day, with all the variety of styles for women, or perhaps because of it, women have not, as a rule, learned to dress for business. The business man who interviews the young woman applicant for a position has a right to be skeptical of her ability when she comes to him wearing a frock suitable for an afternoon tea or garden party, with plume bedecked hat, and betraying a passion of the powder puff. She stands just as good a chance of obtaining it as would the young man attired in a frock coat, pin-striped trousers, wearing a silk hat and carrying a cane. That an office is no place for elaborate suits and gowns, low-necked waists, beads, bangles and bracelets, and ornate hair dressing should go without saying, yet these inconsistencies are seen every day in the attire of girls purporting to be a part of the business fold. The time will come, no doubt, when women will, without flinching, relegate these things to their proper places, but why not begin with the business student? To dress in a business-like manner does not mean that mannish or ugly clothes must be worn, but simplicity should be the keynote, and after all nothing is more attractive than simplicity combined with a due regard for the prevailing modes. Keep the elaborate suit and plumed hat for gala occasions and Sundays, and the low-necked gown and jewelry for the evening. Nothing is more restful after a day of good honest endeavor downtown than to come home in the evening, remove the business suit, and trim shirtwaist and put on the dainty little evening frock.

In the long run it is no more expensive, the business suit will retain its freshness, and your girl will be dressed and will also know how to dress for all occasions, a knowledge very often lacking in women not in business.

Adapt the prevailing styles to suit her individuality, keeping safely away from extremes, and select materials that are of good quality, but not so expensive that, for economy's sake, they must be worn two or three years after the style has changed. For a suit or frock, no matter how fine, is hopelessly unattractive if out of date.

For business wear in cool weather the plainly tailored suit and simple shirtwaist can hardly be improved upon, while for really cold weather the heavy coat and tailored one-piece serge dress are perhaps the best choice.

After your girl has been properly trained, and is successful in her quest for a position, treat her as seriously as you would treat your boy, and do not forget that the office has the same demand on her time as it has on his. And finally, it will be necessary to realize that if she is to be successful in business she must have exactly the same service as a man and not expect to receive special consideration because of her sex.

VITALITY REGAINED KIDNEYS CURED

Health Restored By "Fruit-a-tives"

HAGERSVILLE, ONT., Aug. 26th. 1913.

"About two years ago, I found my health in a very bad state. My kidneys and liver were not doing their work, and I became all run-down. I felt the need of some good remedy, and having seen "Fruit-a-tives" advertised, I decided to try them.

Their effect, I found more than satisfactory. Their action was mild and the results all that could have been expected.

My liver and kidneys resumed their normal action after I had taken upwards of a dozen boxes, and I regained my old time vitality. Today, I am as well as ever, the best health I have ever enjoyed, and I unhesitatingly give you this testimonial for publication if you wish"

B. A. KELLY.

In hundreds of letters received by the Fruit-a-tives Company, the same expression is used "Fruit-a-tives is the best kidney remedy in the world". At any rate, these tablets have proved the best to the hundreds of men and women who have been cured by taking them. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

NOVEL EQUESTRIAN ACT WILL HEADLINE AT PANTAGES SHOW

The feature position on next Pantages theater program has been given to the Riding Duttons, a trio of the very cleverest equestrians who have invaded vaudevilledom in the past few years. Their act differs entirely from anything heretofore attempted on a stage.

The Riding Duttons for seven years have been a star feature of the Ringling circus. After their strenuous summer seasons they have heretofore devoted their winter months to rest, but since riding acts have sprung into popularity, agents have been holding out alluring offers. It was not until Alex Pantages offered them his entire circuit, which would take them to the warmer clime of California, that they consented. Their act is a pretentious offering, carrying four people, two horses and a carriage, with a special stage built out over the footlights to give them working room. Crampton presents a novel singing and talking number. Duncan and Holt have a black-face turn based on aviation that is exceedingly funny, and Patsy Doyle, eccentric comedian, guarantees to drive away the "glooms." Clara Stephens and company introduce the latest dances in a captivating manner.

NORTHERN FILM HAS BEEN SECURED BY DREAMLAND THEATER

Coming to the Dreamland for Friday and Saturday is the masterpiece northern picture, "Breed of the North," a two-part special, giving a melodrama dealing with Canadian frontier people, and in which the R. N. W. Mounted Police figure prominently. The story has an atmosphere very much like the North Woods series recently produced by the Eclair people. It is a double exposure picture with the leading man, Edgar Jones, playing twins who look just alike. One is an officer sent out to bring in the other, innocent, though accused of murder. The plot has been handled in a first rate way, and the picture makes a good, substantial offering.

Pictures of this description are not before the public every day. They are hard to take—that is, the plot is generally a long one and takes a lot of setting to give it the true northwestern atmosphere. Dreamland patrons will do well to see this feature, as it is one of those true to life stories filled with lots of action, a good plot and vividly portrayed. Those who have seen the picture, "The Frozen Trail," will be reminded of the scenes and action so vividly portrayed in that film, illuminating the frozen effect.

Welsh Hold Concert.

All Welsh people of the city and their friends are reminded that a concert will be held Thursday evening next in the Cameron hall, on Namayo avenue, commencing at 8 o'clock. A good program of music, etc., will be submitted, and it is hoped that many will attend.

"THE ENDLESS NIGHT" EXCLUSIVE SERVICE FILM AT EMPRESS

A picture that appeals to those who like the finest in picture presentation and plot will like the feature film offering at the beautiful Empress theater, "The Trap" that is on the program that ends with today's performances. The story tells of a daring plan by an infatuated yet daring and villanious lover, to win the hand of the daughter of Cortland Morris, a banker.

One Willis is in love with the Lydia who is also wooed by Gibbons, and who is preferred by the girl. Willis by bribing the butler secures some valuable papers from the personal safe of his master, which papers were entrusted to the banker and if known would implicate the father of the girl, and his associates in some serious financial matters. Lydia, however, sees the interchange of papers and money between the butler and Willis.

To deceive Willis, Lydia sends a note to him presumably from the butler, telling him that all is discovered and that he must guard the papers carefully. To be sure Willis goes upstairs in the house of his host Morris, the banker, and slips the papers in the safe but overlooks to close the door of the safe. Lydia slips in the room and takes the papers out. She is caught, however, by Willis who returns to close the door of the safe. He threatens to ring the fire alarm bell and bring all the guests to the room if she will not return the papers to him. Lydia herself, however, pulls the cord, and while the guests are hammering at the door, she switches out the lights and makes her escape. Willis follows her. Gibbons also had seen her go out and followed too, and see what was the matter? He rescues her from Willis and administers to him a severe beating.

The butler in the meantime has repented of his cill，iany and returns to the house just as Willis is phoning for the police to have the girl arrested. A scuffle ensues, and in trying to secure from Willis a revolver which he had drawn it accidentally goes off and the butler is mortally wounded. The guests rush in who find Willis with the dead man. The police arrive and lead the blackguard to jail charged with murder. Lydia restores the papers to her father and the bankers and Gibbons receives the hand of his sweetheart.

"The Endless Night," is another of the feature pictures that is presented on this same program, which is a continuation of the "Exclusive Service" now showing at the Empress. It is a pretty picture built around a good story and well acted with Lubin's finest players, Arthur Johnston and Lottie Priscoe leading

A number of beautiful organ solos are rendered on the pipe organ and make an appropriate accompaniment to the program.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR NO DANDRUFF—25 CENT DANDERINE

Hair coming out? If dry, thin, faded, bring back its color and lustre.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

TANGO PICTURES MAKE DECIDED HIT AT BIJOU THEATER

The much-talked of and read about world famous Tango was presented yesterday for the first time in Edmonton in motion pictures at the Bijou. The many pretty steps of this celebrated dance were shown in every detail and most carefully too by Mr. Wallace McCutcheon and Miss Joan Sawyer, the premier dance instructors of New York's smart society, and after seeing what the Tango really is, one wonders what all the fuss and talk is about.

The Tango as executed by these dancers is a beautiful and clever dance. Of course as any dance can be put on with vulgar intent so can the Tango, doubtless, and in this way the erroneous and exaggerated impression of the Tango has gained such ground.

The pictures at the Bijou carefully show the Tango so that those desirous and attentive can learn the fundamentals of this present moment dance craze, for in addition to presenting to the public, the respectable and proper version of it, the pictures have been manufactured so that everyone may be able to learn it, as well as the other dances exhibited in this serious of dances.

The theaer was again crowded to its capacity. There seems no doubt but that the people in Edmonton are as keenly interested in the Tango as throughout the entire continent and the European cities.

Today is the last time the Tango will be presented. The management have secured it as also the other dances as an extra attraction to their regular program of splendid pictures, and to their credit it should be said that the regular price of admission only is charged.

MONARCH PRESENTS CLEVER DETECTIVE YARN BY FROHMAN

At the Monarch tomorrow and Saturday Danie L. Frohman presents Laura Sawyer in the great detective play "An Hour Before Dawn."

"An Hour Before Dawn" is a thrilling and intensely exciting story, being in a sort of way a sequel to "Chelsea 7750," which scored an emphatic hit at the Monarch two weeks ago. Laura Sawyer, who played opposite to Henry E. Dixey in the first film, continues in "An Hour Before Dawn" to depict the role of Kate Kirby, the detective's daughter, and as her father is a paralytic, attempts to solve a metropolitan murder mystery that baffles the police. The guidance of her father during the unraveling of the threads of crime occupies a big place in the story, and Miss Sawyer, assisted by House Peters, portray the leading roles in a manner that grips the spectator and makes of the film version a justly crediable adaption of the celebrated play.

The skilled hand of Daniel Frohman is seen throughout the production, and the Famous Players have surely scored another success in this offering.

DOMINIONS WIN GREAT GAME BY CLOSE SCORE LAST NIGHT 7 TO 6

Winners Jump to the Front in First Half of Contest But Fail to Score in Later Period—Eskimos Came Strong at Finish But Failed to Even Up—Record Crowd in Attendance.

"Well, boys, the big game is over, and how did you like it? Were you disappointed, or were you one of the "I told you so's?"

It is safe to say that the majority of the 3,500 fans who witnessed last night's game at the Arena scarcely expected things to happen just the way they did. But that is one of the uncertainties of the game. For instance, it was hardly expected that the Dominions would have such a "walkaway" in the first half. However, with "Baldy" Lynne playing in the place of Jimmie Sutherland, the Eskimos came back strong in the second half and nearly tied the score.

The largest crowd that ever attended a hockey game in Edmonton were there to see the local teams fight it out for supremacy, and they saw a good game. Hockey was never so popular in Edmonton as it is today, and this city may well lay claim to supporting two of the fastest amateur hockey teams in the country.

First Half.

There was a scramble at center ice and McGovern made a rush, but was blocked. Jimmie Sutherland almost got through the Dominion's defence, but McGovern secured the puck and rushed, but was blocked by the Eskimo goal. Eskimos rushed and shot, but Sutherland saved, and Muirhead was given a three minute rest. Eskimos charged down the ice, but to no account, the Dominions secured the rubber, and after a grand attack scored their first goal in 4 minutes. The Dominions pressed hard, McGovern shot twice, but no score. Eskimos bolted down the ice but could not get through, and Dominions returned the attack. Gordon made a nice run and passed to Jimmie Sutherland, but the shot was blocked. Stanley got five minutes for tripping and Eskimos took advantage of his absence with many shots, but Sutherland was always in the way. Lloyd Cook made a nice long run up the ice, but was shunted behind the goal and the play transferred to the Dominions' end. Stanley carried puck up but was kept to the fence and McGovern tried a rush, but the pass was lost. Stanley made a long, lone rush right through Eskimos' defence and scoreu in 7½ minutes.

Eskimos' First Goal.

Eskimos came back in a hurry, and Dea scored their first goal in 45 seconds. Jimmie Sutherland drew a penalty line when two players fell to the ice. Dominions shot hard, but Reid blocked. Stanley again caried puck right up, but lost his shot. Baird notched the third tally for Dominions in 3.10. Eskimos pressed hard, but Gordon shot poorly. Stanley made another rush and dodged, but Reid saved. Neil Sutherland tried to get through, but Stanley intercepted, and went up the ice and passed, but Reid made a good save. Leo Cook got three minutes, and the Dominions scored again after nice rush and shot in 4 minutes. Eskimos followed with one in quick succession, taking just 20 seconds to turn the trick, when they got close in on a rush. They continued to bombard the Dominion's net, but Sutherland made some great saves.

Dominions Rushed Matters.

From a scramble around the Eskimo goal the Dominions secured their fifth tally in 3½ minutes and made another in one minute, when Stanley made a long rush and pretty dodge. There was a scrimmage at the Dominion's goal and Sutherland made some whirlwind stops when three or four Eskimos were pegging him hard. Dominions made another good rush, but the shot went wide. Jack Gordon was hurt and a long delay followed. Leo Cook went off to even up. McGovern made a nice long run and score after 2½ minutes' play, just before half time was called. Score at half-time, 7-2.

Stanley the Star.

Barney tSanley was the pick of the teams in the first half. He simply played a "whale" of a game, and was up on the forward line as much as he was in his position at point. His long rushes were pretty to watch and on more than one occasion resulted in a score. Yes, Stanley was a "bear."

Clyde Sutherland played a great game and stopped nearly everything that came his way in the first half. Charlie Reid appeared to be having a "night off," and his work was hardly up to standard.

Second Half.

"Baldy" Lynne replaced Gordon in this half, and showed great speed and was instrumental in the improved playing of the Eskimos. He was perhaps the fastest skater on the ice, and was wise enought to "back-check."

Stanley and Jimmie Sutherland had a collision, but came around O.K. in a minute. End-to-end rushes featured the beginning of play. McGovern made a good rush, but was shoved into the corner. Manners drew a penalty and the Dominions pressed hard. Stanley was playing a "whale" of a game and intercepted many dangerous rushes. The Eskimos worked hard and Sutherland made a great stop of a high one. Dominions then forced matters and bombarded Reid and the play was fast and furious. The defence and forwards of both teams worked hard, and after 9 minutes of play Dea made another for the Eskimos after a pretty combination. Dea was waking up and improving his play every minute. Stanley tried to get through but was blocked. Eskimos scored again after a despertae four-man rush: Time 2 minutes. Dea got three minutes for tripping and the play resorted to end-to-end rushes. Muirhead made a great block when Dominions got close in, and Manners made nice rush and pass, but Reid saved. Dea tried hard but shot wide, and Reid excelled himself by stopping a hot shot when Dominions broke through. Dominions might have scored when Muirhead came away out, but Stanley's shot went wide.

Eskimos Another.

Eskimos pulled another good rush and scored in 9 minutes, and Leo Cook almost got through to even up. Stanley and Baird both went on the fence, the latter for tripping Lynne. Eskimos tried hard and had most of play, but Sutherland was always ready. There was only a few minutes to play, and the players were tiring rapidly. The final score of the evening came when the Eskimos secured the rubber at the far end of the rink, and after one grand rush notched their sixth goal. Time, 5 minutes. The last minute of play found both teams pressing hard to get through, but of no avail, and the game ended 7 to 6 in the Dominions' favor.

Little Rough Work.

The game was pretty clean throughout, and very little rough work was in evidence. Referee Deeton and Judge of Play McLeod handled the game in a capable manner. The Eskimos were lamentably weak upon that very important feature, "back-checking." The entire forward line many times after making a rush would straggle back to help out the defence. There's room for improvement there.

Everybody was "Happy."

The game was thoroughly enjoyed by the big crowd and everyone seemed in a happy mood. The numbering of the players and the sign hung over center ice were apprecitaed. The rink management is to be complimented upon the large number of street cars waiting to carry everybody home. There were plenty of cars, but mighty little "juice."

Dominions Showed "Class."

Without a doubt the winners showed that they have "some" team and are to be reckoned with in the Allan Cup games. Neil Sutherland failed to show up in his usual style, and all the Eskimo forwards were checked pretty closely all night. Many would have liked to have seen the Eskimos tie the score, and but for the calling of time they might have done it at that.

The teams lined up as follows:

Eskimos (6)		Dominions (7)
Reid	Goal	C. Sutherland
Muirhead	R. defence	Stanley
Duncan	L. defence	McGovern
Dea (Lynn)	Rover	Leo Cook
J. Sutherland	Centre	Lloyd Cook
N. Sutherland	Left	Baird

Shows Dual Personality

Paul Lindau's dual personality play, "Der Andere" ("The Other"), is to be done into English out of its version, "La Procureur Hallers," and will be acted in London by Arthur Bourchier. The play is 20 years old; it was first acted in Meiningen in 1893. Its principal character, that of the title in the French version, is a police magistrate, who, through an unusual form of insomnia, develops a dual personality and commits by night crimes which he must expose in his other self by day.

BRITISH PAPER COMMENDS PROFIT SHARING SCHEME

London, Jan., 24.—The Pall Mall Gazette says regarding the Ford profit-sharing scheme at Detroit: "The business world is disposed to fear that Ford's generosity will erouse expectations among employees of other concerns. This is not improbable but we do not thnik it is to be deplored. Profit sharing is the most promising road to harmony between capital and labor yet surveyed and employers who have the courage to enter it deserve that better service should accrue."

Theater for the People

Max Reinhardt is to give Berlin a huge new theater "for the people," wherein everything of a theatrical nature will be exploited at popular prices. In his prospectus he calls the playhouse the "Theater of the Five Thousand," and it will be in what is now the Schumann circus, which is to be thoroughly modernized.

SPORTOGRAPHY

Ira Thomas Lost Out Because He Couldn't Catch a Foul Ball.

Ira H. Thomas would be enrolled in the baseball hall of fame as one of the greatest catcher in history except for his one weakness—he never could catch a foul ball that was at all difficult.

The famous Athletic backstop was born at Ballston Spa, N.Y., thirty-three years ago today. In fact, he is the guy who put the Ball in Ballston. (Tremendous applause.) Prior to his debut, Ballston Spa got onto the sporting page only by its devotion to the noble art of cock fighting. In the good old days that village was the scene of many notable mains in which the most ferocious and blood-thirsty fowls in America participated. Perhaps that explains Ira's antipathy to fouls, which, spite of his brilliance in other ways, long delayed his appearance in the main show.

Ira was a little, sawed-off runt, standing only six feet two inches in his hosiery when, at the age of twenty-one he was given a try-out by Hartford, in the Connecticut league. Every time he went after a foul fly he fell down, and Hartford decided he wouldn't do. Next year Ira tried again, and this time he was given a job. He caught ninety-four games for the Nutmeg State capital in 1903, and broke all records by catching four games in oen day to decide the championship.

Next year Thomas went to Newark, in the Eastern league, but he was used in only a few games, and was then traded to Providence. The Saints needed a backstop, and Ira got regular work during his two seasons with the Rhode Island city, swatting .311 the last year.

Thomas broke into the big league with the New York Americans in 1906, and remained there until the close of 1907, without accomplishing anything particular to get himself into the limelight. In 1908 he went to Detroit, but Jennings got peevish over his stunt of falling on his back when trying for a foul. At the same time Ira's arm began to go back on him, although he caught the only games in the world's series which the Tigers annexed from the Cubs. Jennings put Thomas on the market, and Connie Mack got him. Connie seldom gets stung, and he didn't in the deal whereby he acquired the lengthy, muscular and quick-thinking backstop. For a time Thomas was the mainstay of the Athletics behind the bat. His few failings were more than compensated for by his headwork and his enthusiasm for winnint, which have been of great assistance in helping the Athletics to five pennants.

JACK TYDLESLEY ACCEPTS CHALLENGE

I hereby accept the challenge of Kid Nadeau to fight six, or any number of rounds, at any time and place he may desire. As soon as the $100 mentioned in your challenge is put up, I will cover it, or any other amount.

(Signed) JACK TYDLESLEY.

TODAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS

1895—Frank Erne knocked out Joe Leonard in 2nd round at New York. This was one of the first of the string of victories by which the Swiss lad attained to the world's lightweight championship. Erne began fighting in Buffalo, and in 1894 landed in New York. Leonard was looked upon as a first class boxer, and Erne's speedy victory put him among the top-notchers. He fought George Dixon twice, got a draw with Kid Lavigne, knocked out Dal Hawkins at San Francisco, got a decision over George "Elbows" McFadden, and in 1899 fought Kid Lavigne again at Buffalo, winning the decision and the lightweight title.

1904—Joe Gans defeated Joe Grim in 10 rounds at Baltimore.

1907—Harry Lewis knocked out Rube Smith in 8th round at Denver.

WEAKNESS AND PALPITATION OF THE HEART.

When the heart begins to beat irregularly, palpitates and throbs, skips beats, and sometimes seems to almost stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm.

Many people become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social, business or household duties.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are a specific for all weakness and heart disorders, and are recommended by us with the greatest of confidence that they will do what we claim for them.

Mrs. George Burridge, Coboconk, Ont., writes:—"Just a few lines to let you know what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. I have been troubled with weakness and palpitation of the heart. I tried many remedies but got none to answer my case like your pills did. I can recommend them highly to all with heart or nerve trouble."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto Ont.

Kling Quits Baseball.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 22.—"I am through playing ball," said John Kling, when told yesterday of the announcement of his unconditional release by the Cincinnati baseball club. Kling is in business here.

"Rumors of a possibility that I might sign with this or that club in case of unconditional release never had a particle of foundation," he declared.

Greater than Panama's Bridge of Water

The Panama Canal is the logical outcome of the trend of modern commerce—it is monumental evidence of the present-day need for shortening distance—for lessening time and for reducing cost of distribution between maker and consumer.

In point of distance, the Panama will bring the Pacific nearer to the Atlantic by 1,000 miles. In point of time, the sea voyage between Halifax and Vancouver will be shortened by 24 days. In point of cost, the canal will very materially lessen the expense of carrying freight between these places. But there is a stronger factor than even the Panama in shortening distances, lessening cost and saving time between manufacturer and user.

It is Advertising—
It is the quickest—
It is the most direct—
And it is the cheapest—
means of communication between the maker and user of goods.

For instance, Advertising enabled a manufacturer in Nova Scotia to carry a demand for his product
from his factory to the Pacific Coast
— in a few days
— at an insignificant cost
compared with slower and more laborious selling methods.

In one week, thousands learned of his product where it would have taken years for the news to get around without advertising.

To the Manufacturers of Canada:

You will be alert to take advantage of the Panama route for the physical transportation of your goods. Have you considered how quickly, how far, and at what small cost the Advertising Trade Route will carry demand for those goods?

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.

Toronto Stocks.

Toronto, Jan. 22.—A broadening of interest is indicated in the local market and brokers are optimistic over the outlook. The improement reflectsv more cheerful foreign advices and a relaxation in the money situation.

A scarcity of stocks is also developing and would-be buyers are finding that they would have to reach for issues if their orders are at the market.

The demand for Canada Bread securities keeps up, the common stock touching 22 3-4 today, while the bonds also improved a further fraction. Brazilian was active and firmer, and Barcelona and MacKay also improved. A three point advance in the bid for British Columbia packers indicates that stock sacracity, and the bid for F. N. Burt stock rose 2 to 77.

Fractional gains were made by Winnipeg Electric, shredded wheat and some others. A rise of a point occurred in Canada permanent and the bank shares were firm.

Montreal Produce.

Montreal, Jan. 22.—Butter remained firm and eggs unchanged. The cold storage supply has been greatly increased and yesterday's easier prices held today.

Cheese—Finest westerns 13 7-8 @ 14; finest easterns 13 1-4 @ 13 3-4.

Butter—Choicest creamery 28 1-2 @ 299; seconds 26 1-2 @ 27.

Eggs—Fresh 42 @ 43; selected 35; 1 stock 30; 2 stock 26.

Montreal Stocks.

Montreal, Jan. 22.—The adance in the local stock market which showed some signs of halting on Tuesday, was resumed yesterday and substantial gains were shown by the majority of the active issues. Stocks of wide market influence like C.P.R., Power and Brazilian were conspicuous in the rise, all three rising to new high levels for the movements.

Strength of C.P.R. in outside markets brought no activity in the stock here, but quotations were at a substantial advance 1 to 1 1-2 points above Tuesday's.

Other features of the market were Shawinigan which rose 2 to 138; Ottowa Power, which rose on active trading from 162 3-4 at the opening to 165 and finished 164 3-4 and MacDonald which jumped 1-2 to 20 1-2 and closed 20 3-8. Textile, Laurentide, Winnipeg railway, Twin City and Detroit were other issues to show an advancing tendency.

Montreal Cattle

Montreal, Jan. 22—There were heavy supplies of cattle on the local market yesterday, while during the first of the day trade was somewhat dragging ,it picked up later and by noon supplies were well cleaned up.

Ruling prices were extremely high, owing to the fact that there were some very choice on the market from Toronto . For some 150 heads of these the price was 8.50.

Seventy carloads arrived for yesterday's market. Of these about four loads of feeders have been purchased to go to Nek York state.

On large receipts of eastern hogs and also a few cars of Northwest stock there was an easier feeling in the market today and prices showed a decline of 25 cents .

There was a very firm feeling in the market for sheep, lambs and calves on the small receipts.

Receipts of livestock for yesterday's market at East End yards were 1,200 cattle, 800 sheep and lambs, 130 hogs and 200 calves

Receipts of livestock at West End yards today were 300 cattle, 50 sheep and lambs, 600 hogs and 150 calves.

Extra choice steers 9.75; choice butcher steers 8.25 to 8.50; extra good 7.75 to 8.00; good 7.25 to 7.50; fair 6.75 to 7.00; medium 7.25 to 7.50; butcher bulls good 7.00 to 7.25; poor to medium 4.00 to 6.75 cwt.; butcher cows good 6.75 to 7.00; fair 6.25 to 6.50; medium 5.75 to 6.00; common 5.25 to 5.50; poor 4.50 to 5.00.

Sheep 525 to 5.35; lambs 800 to 8.25.

Hogs—Seleet easterns 9.75; cows 7.75; stags 5.00 to 5.50; westerns 9.35 to 9.50 weighed off cars.

Calves 3.00 to 15.00, according to size and quality.

New York Stocks

New York, Jan. 22.—Dealings in both stocks and bonds were on an enlarged scale yesterday and prices rose steadily . There was an insistent demand for securities of all classes and nearly 80 of the stocks traded in made gains 1 to 2 points or more. The sustained character of the buying from open to close made the market one of the best from the standpoint of the bullish operators ,of any since the improvement set in last month.

Another important factor was the marked success of New York states offering of $51,000,000 of 4 1-2 per cent, bonds. The sale of this issue at above 106, and the large over-subscription, gave evidence of the improvement in the investment situation The price which the bonds brought had an immediate effect upon the investments.

Total sales of the bonds, par value, $5,665,000 U. S. two's coupon advanced 1-8 on call. The three's registered declined 1-4 and Panama three's registered 3-4 on call.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—Shrinkage worse than at any previous time this season appeared yesterday in estimates of the Argentina exportable supplies of wheat. Prices here made a corresponding advance and closed steady with a gain of 1-8 and 1-4 to 1-4 and 3-8 net. Other leading staples all finished at a loss comared with the night before, oats closing a shade to 1-8.

Revised figures from the shippers brought the probable yield of wheat in Argentine down to where the margin for export could not be put at more than 64,000,000 bushels, as against 108,000,000 bushels a year ago. The effect of this bullish news was increased by dread that the cold wave northwest of Chicago might spread over the winter crop belt and cause a dangerous sudden freeze.

Improved European demand for wheat here ,throughout the west and at the eastern seaboard, gave prices an additional lift, which, however, failed to ledge, the bulge having ranged to rather heavy selling on the part of a leading firm. Nevertheless, the din from top figures was kept within 7-8 and was not regarded by the bulls as more than might naturally have been expected

Oats weakened with corn. Selling from commission houses developed as soon as prices had shown a little upturn.

Chicago Cattle

Chicago, Jan. 22.—Cattle: Receipts 17,000, market steady; beeves 6.80 to 9.50; Texas steers 6.90 to 8.10; stockers and feeders 5.30 to 8.00; cows and heifers, 8.60 to 8.60; calves 7.50 to 11.00.

Hogs—Receipts 45,000; market weak. Light 8.15 to 8.45; mixed 8.15 to 8.45; heavy 8.15 to 840; rough 8.15 to 8.25; pigs, 6.75 to 8.10, bulk of sales 8.30 to 8.40.

Sheep—Receipts 95,000; market is strong. Native 6.90 to 8.10; yearlings 5.90 to 7.30; lambs, native 6.9 0to 8.10.

London market closed as follows: Copper quiet, spot £64, 15s; futures £65.

Tin firm, spot £173, 10s; futures £174, 15s.

Lead £20, 7s, 6d.

London Stocks

London, Jan. 22.—The stock markets opened dull and dropping the unfavorable news from the Rand accentuating the realizing ,but there was a cheerful recovery in the afternoon and a strong close with hopes of a further reduction in the bank rate.

Consols bounded up to 73 15-16 and gilt edges sympathized with moderate demands for investments despite the new issues announced during the day. Dominion of Canada loan scrip was quoted at £ 1-4 premium.

The death of Lord Strathcona had a depressing effect upon Canadian Pacific but afterwards the stoke strengthened on inside support and closed firm at 219 1-2. Dealers here do not believe that Lord Strathcona's holdings are likely to be marketed. There were but fractional changes in Grand Trunks and trading was mixed. Land shares were quiet but it is not industrials, South Tractions were strong in spots.

The chief new issue of the day was one for $7,500,000 by the Pacific Great Eastern railway company. The issue is of 4 1-2 per cent. debentures guaranteed by the British Columbia government.

They have been underwritten at 95, with a commission of 1 1-2 per cent. A 41-2 per cent loan for $4,500,000 by the city of Gothenberg, Sweden, was undewritten at 98 -?2 and a big block of Argentine treasury bills has been placed on the market.

Call money was quoted at 2 per cent and bill rates again declined, three months paper being negotiated at 3 1-2 per cent. tomorrow.

Sir Felix Schuster, presiding at an annual bank meeting, said that the abundant harvest in Western Canada had largely offset the monetary stringency bred of a too rapid expansion The difficulties were recognized, the banks were cautious but though the pace was slacker, a continuance of brisk development seemed assured.

Cables from Johanesburg state that the labor leaders are secretly trying to precipitate another general strike, but that the government has thorough control of the situation. The prospect of along struggle between organized labor and the South African government is, however, depressing to operators.

Livestock Report

Chicago, Jan. 22.—The annual livestock report of the Orange Judd Farmer, made public here yesterday, showed a farm wealth in this form of property that broke all records. The increase in values in 12 months was placed at $443,559,000, while the total value of all classes of farm animals reached $5,596,024,000. Of this $529,339,000, and milch cows $103,960,000. By way of comparison ,the total value represented 50 per cent. more than the total in circulation in this country and was almost equal to all deposits in the 7,400 national banks in existence.

The numbers of meat producers animals, however ,showed a decrease, that of cattle recording a falling off in number of 1,762,000 head, or five per cent; hogs a decrease of 4,982,000 or 7 per cent.; milch cows showed no material change, while horses increased slightly in number. The decrease in number caused a heavy increase in value per head, milch cows increasing 21 per cent.; other cattle 18 per cent.; hogs 17 per cent. and sheep 8 per cent.

SEVEN FIRES IN FOURTEEN HOURS

Residence Valued at $5,000 Burned to Ground This Morning.

ADMITS STARTING BLAZE

Joseph Tonoph Said He Wanted to Get $200 From Insurance Money.

The fire fiend seems to have struck Edmonton with full fury, there being no less than seven fires recorded in about 14 hours, all of which have been more or less serious.

The first call received was about 1.45 yesterday afternoon, when a newly furnished shack on Baldwin road was completely destroyed, causing a loss of about $1,000.

The next call received was the fatal fire at the Mounted Police barracks. At the same time another call was received from Henry street, where a fire had broken out in the basement of No. 264. This blaze was caused by an overheated furnace in the basement, and by the time the firemen arrived the flames had got a good start, but the fire was confined to the basement.

Another call on the south side was received at 2.18 this morning, when a fire broke out in a residence on Third avenue north. The blaze was caused by some rubbish catching fire from the furnace. The damage was slight.

It is alleged that a $5,000 blaze was caused this morning by a foreigner who wanted to get $200 out of the owners.

At 6.10 this morning the south side firemen received a call to go to a fire on Sixteenth avenue, between Sixth and Seventh streets. Arriving there, the firemen found that the fire had got a good start, and as the nearest hydrant was seven blocks away the house was burned before they could do much. The house was owned and occupied by A. F. Elithorpe, who had only the day previous to the fire left town with his family for a visit. The house was levelled to the ground by the fire, and the loss is estimated at $5,000. On account of the owners being away it could not be learned whether or not the house was insured.

In connection with this fire, the police arrested a man named Joseph Tunoph, who was seen around the house at the time of the fire. When examined by Deputy Chief Davis this morning, he admitted that he had been in the house and that he had seen the fire burning a hole in the floor, but stated that he tried to put the fire out. He further said that he had lent the owner a sum of $200, and that he could not get it back, and admitted when pressed by the deputy chief that he thought he might possibly get the money if the house was burned and the owner got the insurance. It was stated by the police that this man was only let out of the south side police station on bail yesterday afternoon at 4.30. He had been arrested on a charge of being drunk.

A defective chimney was the cause of a blaze at 557 Victoria avenue early today, the residence of T. A. Gagnor. The fire was extinguished with chemicals before any serious damage was done.

A shack belonging to the Edmonton street cleaning department, on the market square, was destroyed this morning by fire. The fire was caused by an overheated stove pipe.

ADVERTISING SCHEMES WILL BE LEARNED BY AD CLUB COMMITTEE

One of the most important functions of the Edmonton Ad club is to judge any and all advertising schemes through its censorship committee, which consists of three men appointed by the executive committee of the club and whose names are not made public so that no untoward influence may be brought to bear on them. Each proposition which comes before this committee is judged on the following points:

1. Is it necessary? 2. Has it value as an advertising medium? 3. Has it the proper proportion of advertising and reading matter? . Is the price charged reasonable? 5. Has a signed statement from a local printer been filed, setting out the number of copies contracted for, the quality of paper and style of binding? 6. Has satisfactory proof of a proper and complete distribution, signed by a responsible local man, been filed? 7. Is the advertiser protected in all particulars against failure to carry out promises made in writing?

NEW SCHEDULE FOR STREET RAILWAY IN EFFECT FEBRUARY 1

The plans are almost complete for the operation of a new street railway schedule and it is understood that this will be effective on February 1st. There has been opposition to the proposed cutting out of cars and the giving of only a 20 minute service after 10 o'clock at night on all lines except the high level which would be a 15 minute service. The officials claim that the service will not be materially hurt on the one hand, while on the other it will be possible under the new system to save $100 a day on the cost of operation and this they point out will go a long way toward making the department pay.

NEW LAND COMPANY INCORPORATED WITH TEN MILLION CAPITAL

The Canadian Northern Town Properties company, limited, the head office of which is at Toronto and which is capitalized at $10,000,000, has been registered in Alberta under the Foreign Companies ordinance. It is a Mackenzie and Mann concern, dealing mostly in townsites and land along the lines of the Canadian Northern railway, and its registering in Alberta probably means that the C. N. R. will put several new towns on the market in Alberta and British Columbia this year and push their sale vigorously from Edmonton.

Young Frenchman Missing.

The police are in receipt of a letter from the consul general of France at Montreal, asking them if they can give any assistance in finding the whereabouts of Georgus Gagez, a young Frenchman of about 18 years of age. This is the son of very wealthy parents in France, and the young man left some time ago for Canada, intending upon his arrival in this country to go west. As nothing has ever been heard of him since he came to this country, fears are entertained for his safety. Any information about this young man will be welcomed by the police department.

Card Party and Concert.

The entertainment committee of branch No. 460 of the C.M.B.A. announce that a card party and concert will be held in the basement of the Sacred Heart church on Kinistino ave. on Tuesday, February 3, at 8.30 p.m. Refreshments will be served after distribution of prizes. SMALLPOX CASES REPORTED AT SEVERAL POINTS IN ALBERTA

Several points in the province have reported cases of smallpox during the last few days and the provincial health department has lost no time in taking measures to prevent the spread of this serious disease.

The most serious case, perhaps, thus far reported ,is that at the Onion Lake Indian reserve, west of Lloydminster. The Indians are supposed to be under the care of the dominion government, but V E. Barrow of the provincial department of health is now down there looking into the matter. The reserve has been quarantined and police are stationed in the vicinity to see that the quarantine is not broken.

Dr. C. W. Laidlow left on this morning's Athabasca train for Morinville, whence he will go to Cardiff, where several coal miners are said to have contracted the disease This point, about 20 miles north of Edmonton, has also been quarantined, and every precaution is being taken to counteract the ravages of the pox.

Dr. T. J. Norman, also of the health department, is looking into two cases at Stavely, in the southern part of the province, where two families who have been there for only two weeks from the United States have smallpox.

For the cases at Onion Lake it was impossible to get vaccine, the substance used for vaccination, at Lloydminster, and a quantity was sent down by express by the department from Edmonton.

INTERESTING PAPERS READ AT MEETING OF ALBERTA SURVEYORS

The Alberta Land Surveyors association held its fourth annual meeting on Tuesday and yesterday in the Ad club rooms, Tegler block, a large number of members from all parts of the province being present, and the report of the secretary-treasurer indicated a very satisfactory condition of affairs during 1913. Many interesting papers of a technical nature were read. The annual dinner was held in the Edmonton club, Richardson's orchestra dispensing excellent music. Next year's meeting will also be in Edmonton, the plan of the association being to hold it two years in Edmonton to one in Calgary. The following officers were elected for 1914: President, R. W. Cautley; vice-president, H. H. Moore; secretary-treasurer, R. H. Cautley; members of the council, A. J. Latornel, R. J. Gordon, P. N. Johnson, A. C. Talbot, J. L. Cote and R. H. Knight; auditors, H. P. Keith and H. E. Pearson.

LIQUOR FOR MEDICINAL PURPOSES IS PERMITTED PEACE RIVER COUNTRY

F. G. Forster, chief license commissioner, said to a Capital reporter yesterday that there is a way to legally take liquor into the north country, which does not come within the scope of the liquor ordinance, and that is to get a permit, which will be given by the department on presentation of a doctor's certificate that the liquor is needed for medicinal purposes. The maxicum amount allowed to one person is one gallon, and a person taking this amount in cannot take any more for three months. North of the liquor ordinance area the question is entirely in the hands of the mounted police who are strictly enforcing the law and searching everybody for liquor without a permit.

WELL KNOWN ARTIST HAS ARRANGED FINE PROGRAM FOR CONCERT

There will no doubt be left in the public mind as to the musical talent of Miss Cozella Corbitt, when her program which she is busy preparing is announced. Such an ambitious one as she is offering could only be attempted by an artist of the very high merit which Miss Corbitt undoubtedly is. All music lovers should remember that Tuesday next is the day of the concert which will be given in the First Presbyterian church. Tickets are now on sale at Masters' Piano store.
